PART I HISTORICAL

THE STATE

North Carolina, often called the "Tar Heel" state, was the scene of the first attempt to colonize America by English-speaking people. Under a charter granted to Sir Walter Raleigh by Queen Elizabeth, a colony was begun in the 1580's on Roanoke Island This settlement, however, was unsuccessful and later became known as "The Lost Colony."

The first permanent settlement was made about 1650 by immigrants from Virginia. In 1663 Charles II granted to eight Lords Proprietors a charter for the territory lying "within six and thirty degrees of the northern latitude, and to the west as far as the south seas, and so southerly as far as the River St. Mattias, which bordereth upon the coast of Florida, and within one and thirty degrees of northern latitude, and so west in a direct line as far as the south seas aforesaid; . . ." and the colony was called Carolina. In 1665 another charter was granted to these noblemen. This charter extended the limits of Carolina so that the northern line was 36 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, and the southern line was 29 degrees north latitude, and both of these lines extended westward to the South Seas.

In 1669 John Locke wrote the Fundamental Constitutions as a model for the government of Carolina. The Lords Proprietors adopted these constitutions and directed the governor to put into operation as much of them as was feasible. In 1670 there were four precincts (changed to counties in 1739): Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chowan, and Currituck. North Carolina now has one hundred counties.

Carolina on December 7, 1710, was divided into North Carolina and South Carolina, and Edward Hyde, on May 9, 1712, became the first governor of North Carolina.

In 1729 seven of the eight Lords Proprietors sold their interest in Carolina to the Crown and North Carolina became a royal colony. George Burrington was the first royal governor. Richard Everard, the last proprietary governor, served until Burrington was appointed.

North Carolina, on April 12, 1776, authorized her delegates in the Continental Congress to vote for independence, and on December 18, 1776, adopted a constitution. Richard Caswell became the hist governer under this constitution. On November 21, 1789, the state adopted the United States Constitution, being the twelfth state to enter the Federal Union. North Carolina, in 1788, had rejected the Constitution on the grounds that certain amendments were viral and necessary to a free people.

A Constitutional convention was held in 1835 and among several enanges made in the Constitution was the method of electing the governor. After this change the governor was elected by the people for a term of two years instead of being elected by the Legislature for a term of one year. Edward Bishop Dudley was the first governor elected by the people.

North Carolina secoded from the Union May 20, 1861, and was readmitted to the Union in July, 1868.

A new State Constitution was adopted in 1868 and since that date the governor has been elected by the people for four-year terms and he cannot succeed himself. There has not been a new constitution since 1868, but numerous amendments have been added to it.

North Carolina has had a democratic administration since 1900, during which period it has made its greatest progress.

North Carolina has had two permanent capitals—New Bern and Raleigh—and there have been three capitol buildings. Tryon's Palace in New Bern was constructed in the period, 1767-1770, and the main building was destroyed by fire February 27, 1798. The first capitol in Raleigh was completed in 1794 and was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831. The present capitol was completed in 1840.

The state in 1790 ceded her western lands, which was composed of Washington, Davidson, Hawkins, Greene, Sullivan, Sumner, and Tennessee counties, to the Federal government, and between 1790 and 1796 the territory was known as Tennessee Territory, but in 1796 it became the fifteenth state in the Union.

In 1738, the General Assembly of North Carolina passed an act puthorizing the establishment of district courts which served as appelant courts. These courts were authorized to be held in Bath. New Bern, and New Town—now Wilmington. In 1746, the General Assembly repealed the act of 1738 and established district courts to be held at Edenton. Wilmington, and Edgecombe. From 1754 until 1790, other districts were formed as the state expanded in territory and developed needs for these districts. By 1790, there were eight judicial districts divided into two ridings of four districts each. In 1806, the General Assembly passed an act establishing a superior court in each county. The act also set up judicial districts composed of certain contiguous counties, and this practice of expanding the districts has continued from five districts in 1806 until now there are thirty districts.

When North Carolina adopted the Federal Constitution on November 21, 1789, she was authorized to send two senators and five representatives to the Congress of the United States according to the constitutional apportionment. In 1792, when the first federal census had been completed and tabulated, it was found that North Carolina was entitled to ten representatives. It was then that the General Assembly divided the state into ten congressional districts. In 1812, the state had grown and increased in population until it was entitled to thirteen representatives in Congress. Between 1812 and 1865, however, the population decreased so much in proportion to the population of other states of the Union that North Carolina was by that time entitled only to seven representatives. After 1865 the population of the state showed a steady increase so that beginning in 1943 North Carolina was entitled to twelve representatives in Congress. The 1960 census showed that the state had nearly a half million more people than in 1950, but this increase was not nearly as much in proportion to that of some of the other states. North Carolina is now entitled to only eleven representatives in Congress.

AGRICULTURE

Following several successive years of mounting surpluses of tobacco in storage, production of flue-cured tobacco came under the acreage-poundage program for the first time in 1965. Compliance by North Carolina farmers with the terms of this program coupled with unfavorable climatic conditions resulted in a 1965 reduction from the previous year of 259 million pounds of flue-cured leaf. Climatic conditions in 1966 were also not favorable for optimum yields of tobacco, and marketings were only 64 million pounds above the 1965 level. Since tobacco is, by far, the largest individual agricultural commodity produced in the State, the loss of poundage was bound to have had its impact upon the agricultural economy of North Carolina.

The loss in quantities sold was offset to some degree by higher unit prices. Nevertheless, the $155 million value placed on all tobacco in 1965 was short of the 1964 value by $107 million. Tai Heel farmers recovered about $59 million of this loss in their 1966 marketings, but returns from sales of flue-cured tobacco during the two-year span were $155 million below income at the 1964 level.

The 1965 corn crop in North Carolina produced an average yield of 70 bushels per acre to exceed the previous record by 11 bushels per acre. Due to severe drought in June and July, the yield of the 1966 crop declined to 45 bushels per acre — the smallest yield since 1959. Production of 61 million bushels of corn for grain in 1966 was only about two-thirds as large as the 1965 production. Despite higher unit prices in 1966, the value of the corn crop declined $24 million in 1966.

Climatic conditions were also unfavorable for production of cotton, both in 1965 and 1966. Furthermore, a substantial proportion of the 1966 acreage was lost through freezing temperatures in the spring. Production of 93,000 bales of cotton in 1966 was only about two-fifths as large as the comparatively short 1965 crop.

On the brighter side is the continuing increase in production of soybeans and peanuts. The 1966 production for each of these crops exceeded the previous records established in 1965 by substantial margins. Also, higher prices received for many of the agricultural commodities contributed to an increase of $26 million over 1965 in the value of all crops harvested in 1966.

Production of livestock and livestock products continue to gain in their contribution to the agricultural income of the State. The total of $410 million realized from sale of these commodities in 1965 exceeded 1964 by $41 million. Although the 1966 figures are not yet available, there is every reason to anticipate an additional increase of some $50 million.

Cash receipts from marketings of all agricultural commodities in 1965 amounted to $1,190 million, falling $48 million below the record of $1,238 million realized in 1964. With a slight increase expected in receipts from sale of cultivated crops in 1966 and a substantial increase in receipts from sales of livestock and livestock products, total receipts from agricultural marketings in 1966 should establish a new record.

The value of agriculture to the State's economy cannot be too strongly emphasized. In addition to one and one-quarter billion dollars annual farm income, consideration must be given to the value added to agricultural commodities through processing, packaging, and merchandizing. North Carolina farmers spend more than one-half billion dollars annually for feed, seed, fertilizer, petroleum fuel and oil, and other items essential to agricultural operations.

Conservation and Development

North Carolina moved forward by leaps and bounds during 1965 and 1966, setting the pace for the New South, and pressing forward with Governor Dan Moore's program for Total Development of our State's resources to the best advantage of its citizens.

Once again, all existing records were shattered in capital investments announced for new and expanded manufacturing facilities. North Carolina's thriving travel industry set another income record in 1965, and final 1966 figures are expected to be even higher. Our State Parks enjoyed new records in attendance and use by the public. Products manufactured from North Carolina's vast forest resources continued to yield more than $1 billion annually.

Expansion and development of the technical programs of the Divisions of Mineral Resources and Geodetic Survey resulted in more knowledge of our State's resources, and assistance to many facets of the industrial community.

Research and development of North Carolina's valuable marine and estuarine resources under the supervision of the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries moved ahead at a fast pace, highlighted by the beginning of construction on a specially-designed research ship named in honor of Governor Moore.

The orderly growth and expansion of many of our State's communities was assured during the past two years, due to assistance provided by the Division of Community Planning. For the first time, a training program was established aimed at filling the critical need for experienced community planning experts in North Carolina.

In 1965, $482,430,000 was earmarked for the construction of 165 new plants and the expansion of 373 existing facilities. The new and expanded plants created 37,000 new jobs, a record total for recent years, and additions to industrial payrolls of $136,951,000, another all-time high.

Capital investments in new and expanded manufacturing plants in 1965 were 21 percent over the previous high of $398,983,000 recorded in 1961. New jobs created rose 28 percent over the 1964 total and the gain in industrial payrolls in 1965 increased 30 percent over 1961 figures.

Capital investment in new and expanded manufacturing plants in 1966 set an all-time high at $613,581,000, breaking the half-billion dollar mark for the first time in history. This record-breaking total created 37,455 new jobs for our State's citizens, and added another all-time high of $141,812,000 to industrial payrolls.

The 1966 capital investment registered an increase of 27.2 percent over 1965 figures.

A breakdown of the 1965 total shows textiles led all industrial classifications in numbers of new projects, 146; in new and expanded investment, $176,012,000; in employees added, 13,600; and in payroll additions, $49,063,000.

Total investments in new and expanded chemical projects in 1965 totalled $85,909,000. Rubber and plastics registered a 1965 total capital investment for new and expanded facilities of $27,917,000.

In 1966, textiles held its lead in total capital investment with $216,252,000 for new and expanded facilities, addition of $34,-202,000 in industrial payrolls, and the creation of 9,083 new jobs.

The Apparel Industry also registered significant gains in 1966. Capital investments in new and expanded apparel plants totalled $18.351,000, with added payrolls of $27,567,000 and the creation of 8,908 new jobs.

In total capital investments for new industries alone, chemicals and allied products registered the biggest gain with $105,910,000. The total investment for new and expanded manufacturing facilities in the chemicals and allied products classification totalled $126,276,000. Added payrolls totalled $7,150,000 and a total of 1,249 new jobs were created.

These new and expanded manufacturing facilities during 1965 and 1966 were the direct result of unprecedented cooperation and teamwork at the local, State and Federal levels. The Department of Conservation and Development continued to work closely with North Carolina's industrial development organizations, chambers of commerce, banks, railroads, utility companies, trucking industry and many other groups to strengthen and broaden the State's industrial base.

During 1966, a major effort in development of export markets for North Carolina products was carried out by a far-reaching mission to Europe called Exportunity 1966. The mission was conducted with the cooperation and assistance of the United States Department of Commerce. Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor hailed results of the mission outstanding, calling it "... the most ambitious and far-reaching program of its type ever carried out by a State government."

Exportunity 1966 was divided into four separate parts: a textiles show, a trade mission, an industrial development mission, and a travel promotion mission. More than 90 North Carolinians covered Europe from Sweden to Italy during a one month period, promoting North Carolina's manufactured products, industrial advantages, and tourist attractions. As a result of the mission, many new jobs will be created, European firms are expected to branch out into North Carolina with manufacturing facilities, and more European travelers are expected to visit North Carolina.

The new program of Regional Representatives of the Commerce and Industry Division in Sylva, Salisbury, Washington and Lumberton was established and has carried the programs of industrial development directly to the people.

Tourists and travelers spent $560 million in North Carolina in 1965, bringing a new record for sales and receipts in our State's billion-dollar travel service and transportation business.

Tourists from outside North Carolina spent $345 million in our State in 1965. This was the result of a ten percent increase in tourist expenditures. During the last decade, spending by visitors from other states has been increasing at an average rate of 7.3 percent annually. Trading with tourists has expanded well beyond the 5.7 percent yearly growth rate of all North Carolina retail business. Meanwhile, the national tourist market was rising 5.9 percent annually.

Fifteen million tourist parties visited or passed through North Carolina in 1965, bringing thirty million persons to our State. They traveled nearly six billion passenger miles on highways, railways and airways. Out-of-state tourists account for one-fifth of the nearly twenty-six billion miles of intercity travel by private and public transportation.

This large volume of spending by the transient tourist market stimulates North Carolina commerce and industry. Spending by travelers has created a $1.2 billion business in North Carolina which provides service and transportation for persons away from home.

These figures are based on the 1965 North Carolina Travel Survey by Lewis C. Copeland. The 1966 report has not yet been completed, but all indications are that new records will again be set.

The 1965 General Assembly renamed the Division of Commercial Fisheries the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries, and rewrote all coastal fisheries laws. The Division was charged with stewardship of the State's marine and estuarine resources. The new laws further define "all marine and estuarine resources" as "all fish, except inland game fish, found in the Atlantic Ocean and in coastal fishing waters; all fisheries based upon such fish; all uncultivated or undomesticated plant and animal life, other than wildlife resources, inhabiting or dependent upon coastal fishing waters; and the entire ecology supporting such fish, fisheries, and plant animal life.

A definite shift in Division responsibilities was carried out, with increased emphasis and concern being directed toward the condition and biology of our total fishery resource, regardless of the commercial or sport uses to which it is subjected. Previous responsibilities were concerned primarily with the enforcement of laws and regulations which pertained to the harvest, sale and transport of fish and fisheries products.

Following the guidance of the General Assembly, the Division has given increasing attention to all factors which influence coastal fisheries, has worked with numerous State and federal agencies concerned with these resources, and has greatly increased its research and development efforts.

The market value of finfish and shellfish to North Carolina fishermen during the 1964-66 biennium amounted to $25,296,997.

During the 1964-66 biennium, the Division of Community Planning had 206 contracts with 182 municipalities and counties to provide them with technical planning assistance. Of the 86 communities being assisted on June 30, 1966, 43 of them were undertaking advanced planning programs based on earlier studies and plans completed in earlier contracts with the Division.

In July 1966, applications for Federal grant funds were submitted on behalf of 20 communities.

The Division also initiated in 1966 its first program to train professional community planning experts. The work of this division assures the orderly growth of our State's cities, towns and counties.

The 1965 spring forest fire season was more serious than that of 1964, but not as severe as the 1963 spring fire season. The serious drought of fall 1965 continued into the latter part of April 1966. This drought, coupled with unfavorable atmospheric conditions, resulted in a severe 1966 spring fire season. Forest fire losses in 1966, under abnormal conditions similar to those of 1963, were reduced by 46 percent with about a three percent reduction in the number of fires.

The U.S. Forest Service has completed a forest survey of North Carolina and published preliminary forest resource statistics, which continue to emphasize the importance of forest resources to the economy of our State. The wood-using industry produces well over a billion dollars annually in terms of finished products. The perpetuation of these benefits from the State's forests depends upon maintaining a favorable balance of timber growth over the drain from harvesting raw materials and losses due to timber mortality.

For the first time in several years, a safe margin in this favorable balance has been lost due to expansion of our wood-using industries. Improvement in this situation is imperative if we are to hold and expand our forest industries and continue to enjoy the resulting economic benefits. More than 245,000 small landowners control seventy-eight percent of our State's 20 million acres of forest lands. These lands owned by small landowners are currently capable of sustaining a higher growth rate than they are at present. The Forestry Division is the only agency capable of causing material improvement in small ownership forestry. The future supply of forest raw materials depends on the effectiveness of the Division's programs.

More than 40 million tree seedlings are produced annually at the Division's four nurseries and supplied to landowners at cost of production. Forest fire control procedures and training continues to become more effective. Pest and insect control efforts have minimized timber mortality and growth loss, but are in need of increased support in order to remain at its current high level of effectiveness.

The Division of Geodetic Survey is charged with surveying of the State to determine the exact positions of various points, mathematically taking into account the curvature of the earth's surface. Expansion of this division has been proposed and during the 1964-66 biennium, 835 control markers were established in North Carolina.

The work of the division has been singled out for its accuracy and excellence, and a paper outlining the duties and organization of the division was presented to the 1967 annual meeting of the American Congress of Mapping and Surveying.

The value of mineral production in North Carolina totalled $60.4 million in 1965, reflecting the increasing importance of the mineral industry to the State's overall economic development.

According to preliminary estimates prepared by the Bureau of Mines, U.S. Department of the Interior, 1966, value of mineral production in North Carolina increased 9 percent over 1965 to a total of $65.7 million, setting a new record high.

Principal minerals mined were stone, sand and gravel, feldspar. mica, and lithium minerals. In addition, the first shipment of phosphate rock from new mining activities in eastern North Carolina was made April 1, 1966.

Use by the public of North Carolina's 13 State Parks continued to increase by leaps and bounds during 1965 and 1966, setting new records each year. The emphasis on total use of the park facilities has generated more swimming, camping, hiking, boating and fishing by park users.

In 1965, 2,092,519 persons visited the State Parks, a record high for total attendance.

In 1966, a new record for total attendance of 2,182,300 was recorded, showing an increase of almost 90,000 over the previous year.

Planned improvements of current park facilities and an orderly program of expansion is being carried out by the State Parks Division, aimed at preserving, protecting and renewing the quality of those natural resources for which it is responsible.

The North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development is proud of our State's accomplishments during the past two years, and looks forward to ever greater progress toward "Total Development" in the coming years. Without the cooperation and efforts of countless citizens, State, Federal and local officials, this record of achievement would not be nearly as impressive.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina has a vigorous and effective program of public health.

The State Board of Health and the 66 local health departments serving the 100 counties assure an alert concern for the health conditions in all facilities serving the public. Basic State laws empower the health departments to inspect and regulate conditions affecting health.

While there were various laws and statutes relating to public health measures passed prior to that time, the State Board of Health was created by the General Assembly of 1877, and has been functioning, with changes from time to time, ever since. The General Assembly of 1957 recodified, and to a considerable extent modernized, all public health and related laws of North Carolina. This was done for purposes of coordination and clarification. Guilford has the distinction of being the first county in the United States to inaugurate full-time county health work, June 20, 1911. The following year, Robeson became the first purely rural county in the United States to take this step, but it was not until July 1, 1949 that the last four counties provided this service.

There has been continued progress in public health in these more than five decades. Illustrations of this can be found in every aspect of the legal responsibilities placed upon the State Board of Ilealth. Among these may be noted: compulsory immunization of children beginning at two months of age for poliomyelitis; licensure of nursing and combination nursing and homes for the aged and infirm; surveys in the areas of air pollution and environmental health; and the establishment of a coordinated State Radiological Program. North Carolina published the nation's first Occupational Health Manual in 1961.

The State Board of Health is the State agency administering the Health Insurance Benefits Program (Medicare). Over a million eight hundred thousand dollars a year is being spent on surgical, medical and hospital service to handicapped children. We have a progressive school health coordinating unit and programs of service are being carried on for the aged and for the chronically ill. Many preventive services are rendered by the modern Laboratory Division and by both the consultant staff of the State Board and by the staffs of the local health departments.

STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEMS

On January 1, 1966, the State had under its direct jurisdiction 72,822 miles of highways, roads and streets, a distance equivalent to almost three times around the world at the equator. This vast mileage is almost 10 per cent of the gross length of all mileage under State control in the entire Nation. The three basic systems in this North Carolina network are as follows:

The Primary State Highway System in rural areas is made up of the U. S., N. C. and Interstate numbered routes, and has a length of 11,566 miles, substantially all hard surfaced. The largest of the three systems is the Rural Secondary System of 57,959 miles, of which 29,810 miles are paved—the remainder being surfaced with stone, soil or other all weather material. There is more rural paving in North Carolina than in any other state except Texas, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Wisconsin Some 96% of the State's rural people live on, or within one mile of a paved highway or road.

In addition to these two rural systems, the State has jurisdiction over 3,297 miles of streets which form a part of the State Highway and Road systems in municipalities. Of this Municipal System, 3,090 miles are paved.

Combining the three systems, the State operates a network of 44,391 miles of paved and 28,431 miles of unpaved highways, roads and streets. The State has direct jurisdiction over more mileage than has any other road governing body in the nation. In terms of size and population, no other state exceeds North Carolina in the extent of road services provided for its people. There are no toll roads or bridges in North Carolina.

Major emphasis is now being placed on modernizing many obsolete sections of the Primary System, mainly from the $300 million Bond Issue authorized in the Statewide referendum of November. 1965; completing the Interstate Highway System; and starting the Appalachian Highway Program. Some 386 miles of the Interstate have already been built to final standards and opened to traffic.

Since 1921, the entire Road and Highway Program of the State has been financed exclusively from the gasoline tax, motor vehicle license fees and Federal Aid, without recourse to property taxation or aid from the General State Fund. During the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1966, the State Highway Fund, including Federal Aid, expended $244,621,581 for highway, road, and street construction, maintenance, betterments and improvements, including the operation of the Motor Vehicle Department, Highway Patrol, Highway Safety Division, other state agencies, and the retirement of Secondary Road Bonds.

RURAL ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE SERVICE

Rural areas of North Carolina received little benefits from rural electrification prior to 1935, which is often spoken of as the starting point. At that time, only 1,884 miles or rural lines serving 11,558 farms were recorded by the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority, which was created in that year to secure electric service for the rural areas. Today the Authority reports in operation 97,786 miles of rural lines serving 900,456 consumers. In addition to this, there were 237 miles under construction or authorized for construction to serve 3,036 consumers. Electrification has contributed considerably to the great progress in agricultural development over the past few years. The electrified farm provided for comfort and health in farm living through lighting, refrigeration, communication, ranges, washing machines, freezers, plumbing and all other many useful household electric appliances.

Electric service is essential to modern farm production. Electricity is used by farmers in many ways—yard and building lighting; running water; poultry incubators, brooders, and feeders; livestock feeding; milking; grain and hay driers; irrigation; and many other electric-motor driven pieces of farm producing equipment. Electricity affords fire protection and the operation of many labor-saving devices for the rural home and farm activities. Electric service is practically essential in types of farm production; for example, the production of Grade A Milk.

The 1945 United States Census indicated that only 14,539 North Carolina farms had telephone service. The desire and need in the rural areas for communication, so essential to the well-being of the people was so widespread that the 1945 General Assembly enacted the Rural Telephone Act, charging the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority with the responsibility of assisting rural residences in securing telephone service. Funds and personnel were first assigned to the program in 1949, which might well be termed the active beginning. Through the activities of the State Authority and other State agencies and as a result of cooperation on the part of the telephone industry and the organization of a number of member-owned Telephone Membership Corporations, over eight times as many farms now have telephone service as in 1945. In addition, a greater number of rural non-farm residences also have service.

Public Schools

North Carolina provides a basic State-supported nine months public school term, which is supplemented by the 169 local school administrative units. Public school enrollment in 1965-66 was 1.201.139, the ninth largest enrollment of the 50 states. Attendance is compulsory for children between the ages of 7 and 16. There were 48,631 teachers, principals and supervisors in 1965-66. Nearly 60 percent of all general fund taxes collected by the State are used for elementary and secondary schools. The State finances operation of a fleet of 9,108 buses, transporting 592.318 pupils to the public schools. In 1965-66, there were 2.164 separately organized public schools in the State, and the total value of public school property was $994,752,404. penditures per pupil for current expenses included $267.56 from State funds, $55.36 from federal funds, and $45.37 from local The State Board of Education, with three ex-officio members and ten members appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the General Assembly, has responsibility for the general supervision and administration of the public school system and of the educational funds provided by the State and Federal governments: for the formulation of rules, regulations and policies concerning instructional programs and for fiscal matters. State Superintendent of Public Instruction is the administrative head of the public school system and secretary of the State Board of Education. Elected every four years by popular vote, he is responsible for administering the instructional policies established by the Board, for organizing and establishing the State Department of Public Instruction, and for other matters relating to administration and supervision, excluding fiscal matters. The Controller of the State Board of Education is the executive administrator of the Board in the supervision and management of fiscal affairs, including the budgeting, allocation, accounting, certification, auditing and disbursing of public school funds administered by the Board.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The 1963 General Assembly, following recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Education Beyond the High School, enacted legislation authorizing the establishment of a system of community colleges, technical institutes and industrial education centers. The Department of Community Colleges, under the direction of the State Board of Education, is responsible for State-level administration of this system. These three types of institutions are commuting, nonresident, multipurpose and community centered, offering to high school graduates and others beyond the normal high school age opportunities for two-year college parallel programs, technical programs, vocational programs and general adult and community service courses. Institutions in operation in the fall of 1966 were 12 community colleges, 17 technical institutes, one industrial educational center, and 13 extension units of these institutions. The average annual full-time equivalent enrollment for the 43 institutions in 1965-66 was 25,704. These students were instructed by 986 faculty members.

Colleges and Universities

The University of North Carolina, chartered in 1789, was the Erst State University in the United States to open its doors.

Today, the University of North Carolina is composed of four units: the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina State University at Raleigh, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

There are twelve tax-supported senior colleges located throughout the State: Agricultural and Technical College (Greensboro). Appalachian State Teachers College (Boone), Asheville-Biltmore College (Asheville), East Carolina College (Greenville), Elizabeth City State College (Elizabeth City), Fayetteville State College (Fayetteville), North Carolina College at Durham (Durham), North Carolina School of the Arts (Winston-Salem). Pembroke State College (Pembroke), Western Carolina College (Cullowhee), Wilmington College (Wilmington) and Winston-Salem State College (Winston-Salem).

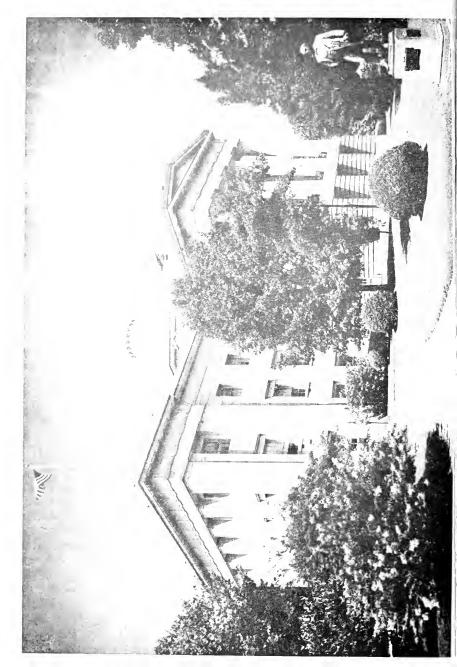

Twelve tax-supported State community colleges, requiring local financial support in addition to State funds, are in operation: Central Piedmont Community College (Charlotte), College of the Albemarle (Elizabeth City), Davidson County Community College (Lexington), Gaston College (Gastonia), Isothermal Community College (Spindale), Lenoir County Community College (Kinston), Rockingham Community College (Wentworth), Sandnills Community College (Southern Pines), Southeastern Community College (Whiteville), Surry Community College (Dobson), Western Piedmont Community College (Morganton), and Wilkes Community College (Wilkesboro).

In all there are seventy institutions of higher learning in the State. Among the forty-two private or church-related institutions, there are: one university (Duke University in Durham, one of the most heavily endowed institutions of higher learning in the world), twenty-seven senior colleges, fourteen junior colleges, one theological seminary, and three Bible colleges.

Total college enrollment in North Carolina institutions of higher learning, both public and private, was 112,805 in Fall 1966 and 104,852 in Fall 1965.

Legal responsibility for planning and promoting a sound, vigorous, progressive and coordinated system of higher education for the State rests with the State Board of Higher Education Established by the 1955 General Assembly, the Board seeks the cooperation of other agencies and colleges, public and private, in developing a system of higher education that meets the State's ongoing and tuture needs at the highest level of excellence.

THE STATE CAPITOL

The original State Capital of North Carolina was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831.

At the session of November, 1832, the Assembly resolved to rebuild on the old site, and $50,000 was appropriated for the purpose. Commissioners were appointed to have the work done. The rubbish was cleared away, the excavations made and the foundations were laid. On July 4, 1833, the cornerstone was set in place.

After the foundations were laid the work progressed more slowly and it was so expensive that the appropriation was exhausted. The Legislature at its next session appropriated $75,000 more. To do the stone and finer work many skilled artisans had been brought from Scotland and other countries. The Building Commissioners contracted with David Paton to come to Raleigh and superintend the work. Mr. Paton was an architect who had come from Scotland the year before. He was the builder, the architect, and designer.

The Legislature was compelled to make appropriations for the work from time to time. The following is a table of the several appropriations made:

$ 50,000.00
75,000.00
75,000.00
75,000.00
120,000.00
105,300.00
31,374.46
$531,674.46

The stone with which the building was erected was the property of the State. Had the State been compelled to purchase this material the cost of the Capitol would have been considerably increased.

In the summer of 1840 the work was finished. At last, after more than seven years, the sum of $531,674.46 was expended. As large as that sum was for the time, when the State was so poor and when the entire taxes for all State purposes reached less than $100,000, yet the people were satisfied. The building had been erected with rigorous economy, and it was an object of great pride to the people. Indeed, never was money better expended than in the erection of this noble Capitol.

Description of the Capitol, Written by David Paton, the Architect

The State Capitol is 160 feet in length from north to south by 140 feet from east to west. The whole height is $97\frac{15}{2}$ feet in the center. The apex of pediment is 64 feet in height. The stylobate is 18 feet in height. The columns of the east and west porticoes are 5 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter. An entablature, including blocking course, is continued around the building 12 feet high.

"The columns and entablature are Grecian Doric, and copied from the Temple of Minerva, commonly called the Parthenon, which was erected in Athens about 500 years before Christ. An octagon tower surrounds the rotunda, which is ornamented with Grecian cornices, etc., and its dome is decorated at top with a similar ornament to that of the Choragic Monument of Lysicrates, commonly called the Lanthorn of Demosthenes.

"The interior of the Capitol is divided into three stories: First, the lower story, consisting of ten rooms, eight of which are appropriated as offices to the Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, and Comptroller, each having two rooms of the same size—the one containing an area of 649 square feet, the other 528 square feet the two committee rooms, each containing 200 square feet and four closets; also the rotunda, corridors, vestibules, and piazzas, contain an area of 1,370 square feet. The vestibules are decorated with columns and antae, similar to those of the Ionic Temple on the Hissus, near the Acropolis of Athens. The remainder is groined with stone and brick, springing from columns and pilasters of the Roman Doric.

"The second story consists of Senatorial and Representatives' chambers, the former containing an area of 2,545 and the latter 2,849 square feet. Four apartments enter from Senate Chamber, two of which contain each an area of 169 square feet, and the other two contain each an area of 154 square feet; also, two rooms enter from Representatives' chamber, each containing an area of 170 square feet; of two committee rooms, each containing an area of 231 square feet; of four presses and the passages, stairs, lobbies, and colonnades, containing an area of 3,204 square feet.

"The lobbies and Hall of Representatives have their columns and antae of the Octagon Tower of Andronicus Cyrrhestes and the plan of the hall is of the formation of the Greek theatre and the columns and antae in the Senatorial chamber and rotunda are of the Temple of Erectheus, Minerva, Polias, and Pandrosus, in the Acropolis of Athens, near the above named Parthenon.

"Third, or attic story, consists of rooms appropriated to the Supreme Court and Library, each containing an area of 693 square feet. Galleries of both houses have an area of 1,300 square feet; also two apartments entering from Senate gallery, each 169 square feet, of four presses and the lobbies' stairs, 988 square feet. These lobbies as well as rotunda, are lit with cupolas, and it is proposed to finish the court and library in the florid Gothic style."

THE STAIL LIGHT MINE BURDING

THE STATE LEGISLATIVE BUILDING*

(Named by Ch. 8, SL 1963)

By RALPH B. REEVES, JR.

The Building Commission

The 1959 General Assembly appropriated funds and authorized the establishment of a Building Commission for the construction of a new building for the Legislative Branch of the State Government. The statute provided that two members be appointed by each Presiding Officer of the two Houses and that three be appointed by the Governor.

Archie K. Davis and Robert F. Morgan were appointed by Lieutenant Governor Luther E. Barnhardt; B. I. Satterfield and Thomas J. White were appointed by Speaker of the House Addison Hewlett; and Governor Hodges appointed A. E. Finley, Edwin Gill, and Oliver R. Rowe.

The Commission elected Thomas J. White as Chairman and Robert F. Morgan as Vice Chairman. Paul A. Johnston, Director of the Department of Administration, was elected Executive Secretary; and upon his resignation, the Commission elected Frank B. Turner, State Property Officer, to succeed him.

To perform architectural services, the Commission selected Edward Durell Stone of New York with John S. Holloway and Ralph B. Reeves, Jr., Associated.

After prolonged study, the Commission selected a site one block North of the Capitol and encompassing a two-block area. The $5\frac{1}{2}$ -acre site is bounded by Jones, Salisbury, Lane, and Wilmington streets. Halifax Street between Jones and Lane streets was closed and included within the new site.

Bids were received in December, 1960; construction commenced in early 1961. The 1961 General Assembly appropriated an additional $1 million for furnishings and equipment bringing the total appropriation to $5½ million.

Based upon the latest census, the cost of the building to citizens of North Carolina was $1.24 each.

^{*}The Building is commonly referred to as THE STATE HOUSE.

Description of the Building

The State Legislative Building, though not an imitation of historic classical styles, is classical in character. Rising from a 340-foot wide podium of North Carolina granite, the building proper is 242 feet square. The walls and the columns are of Vermont marble, the latter forming a colonnade encompassing the building and reaching 24 feet from the podium to the roof of the second floor.

Inset in the south podium floor, at the main entrance, is a 28-foot diameter terrazzo mosaic of the Great Seal of the State. From the first floor main entrance (at Jones Street) the carpeted 22-foot wide main stair extends directly to the third floor and the public galleries of the Senate and House, the auditorium, the display area, and the roof gardens.

The four garden courts are located at the corners of the building. These courts contain tropical plants, and three have pools, fountains, and hanging planters. The main floor areas of the courts are located in the first floor, and mezzanines overlook the courts from the second floor. The skylights which provide natural lighting are located within the roof gardens overhead. The courts provide access to committee rooms in the first floor, the legislative chambers in the second floor, and to members' offices in both floors.

The Senate and House chambers, each 5.180 square feet in area, occupy the east and west wings of the second floor. Following the traditional relationship of the two chambers in the Capitol, the two spaces are divided by the rotunda; and when the main brass doors are open, the two presiding officers face one another. Each pair of brass doors weigh 1,500 pounds.

The five pyramidal roofs covering the Senate and House chambers, the auditorium, the main stair, and the rotunda are sheathed with copper, as is the Capitol. The pyramidal shape of the roofs is visible in the pointed ceilings inside. The structural ribs form a coffered ceiling; and inside the coffered patterns, concentric patterns are outlined in gold. In each chamber, the distance from the floor to the peak of the ceiling is 45 feet.

Chandeliers in the chambers and main stair are 8 feet in diameter and weigh 625 pounds each. The 12-foot diameter chandelier of the rotunda, like the others, is of brass, but its weight 15 750 pounds.

Because of the interior environment, the garden courts and rotunda have tropical plants and trees. Outside, however, the shrubs and trees are of an indigenous type. Among the trees in the grounds, on the podium, and in the roof areas are sugar maples, dogwoods, crabapples, magnolias, crepe myrtles, and pines.

Throughout the building, the same color scheme is maintained: Walnut, white, gold, and red, with green foliage. In general, all wood is American walnut, metal is brass or other gold colored material, carpets are red, and upholstery is gold or black.

The enclosed area consists of 206,000 square feet of floor area with a volume of 3,210,000 cubic feet. Heating equipment provides over 7,000,000 B.T.U. per hour; and the cooling equipment has a capacity of 620 tons. For lighting, motors, and other electrical equipment, the building has a connected service load of over 2,000,000 watts.

THE STATE FLAG

An Act to Establish a State Flag

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That the flag of North Carolina shall consist of a blue union, containing in the center thereof a white star with the letter N in gilt on the left and the letter C in gilt on the right of said star, the circle containing the same to be one-third the width of the union.

Sec. 2. That the fly of the flag shall consist of two equally proportioned bars; the upper bar to be red, the lower bar to be white; that the length of the bars horizontally shall be equal to the perpendicular length of the union, and the total length of the flag shall be one-third more than its width.

Sec. 3. That above the star in the center of the union there shall be a gilt scroll in semicircular form, containing in black letters this inscription: "May 20th, 1775," and that below the star there shall be a similar scroll containing in black letters the inscription: "April 12th, 1776."

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified this 9th day of March, A.D., 1885.

No change has been made in the flag since the passage of this act. By an act of 1907 it is provided:

"That the board of trustees or managers of the several State institutions and public buildings shall provide a North Carolina flag, of such dimensions and materials as they may deem best, and the same shall be displayed from a staff upon the top of each and every such building at all times except during inclement weather, and upon the death of any State officer or any prominent citizen the Flag shall be put at half-mast until the burial of such person shall have taken place.

"That the Board of County Commissioners of the several counties in this State shall likewise authorize the procuring of a North Carolina flag, to be displayed either on a staff upon the top, or draped behind the Judge's stand, in each and every courthouse in the State, and that the State flag shall be displayed at each and every term of court held, and on such other public occasions as the Commissioners may deem proper." (Rev., s. 5321; 1885 c. 291; 1907, c. 838.)

- 1. Resolved. That whosever directly or indirectly abetted or in any way form or manner contenanced the unchartered and dangerous invasion of our rights as claimed by Great Britain is an enemy to this country, to America, and to the inherent and inalienable rights of man.
- 2. Resolved. That we the citizens of Mecklenburg County, do hereby dissolve the political bands which have connected us to the mother country and hereby absolve ourselves from all allegiance to the British Crown and abjure all political connection contract or association with that nation who have wantonly trampled on our rights and liberties and inhumanly shed the blood of American patriots at Lexington.

- 4. Resolved, That as we now acknowledge the existence and control of no law or legal officer, civil or military within this County, we do hereby ordain and adopt as a rule of life all, each and every of our former laws—wherein nevertheless the Crown of Great Britain never can be considered as holding rights, privileges, immunities, or authority therein.
- 5. Resolved. That it is further decreed that all, each and every Military Officer in this County is hereby reinstated in his former command and authority, he acting conformably to these regulations. And that every member present of this delegation shall henceforth be a civil officer, viz., a justice of the peace, in the character of a "committee man" to issue process, hear and determine all matters of controversy according to said adopted laws and to preserve peace, union and harmony in said county, and to use every exertion to spread the love of Country and fire of freedom throughout America, until a more general and organized government be established in this Province.

THE GREAT SEAL

The Constitution of North Carolina, Article III, section 16, requires that

"There shall be a seal of the State which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him as occasion may require, and shall be called 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina.' All grants and Commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with 'The Great Seal of the State,' signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State."

The use of a Great Seal for the attestation of important documents began with the institution of government in North Carolina. There have been at various times nine different seals in use in the colony and State.

The present Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is described as follows;

"The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is two and onequarter inches in diameter, and its design is a representation of the figures of Liberty and Plenty, looking toward each other, but not more than half fronting each other, and otherwise disposed, as follows: Liberty, the first figure, standing, her pole with cap on it in her left hand and a scroll with the word 'Constitution' inscribed thereon in her right hand. Plenty, the second figure, sitting down, her right arm half extended toward Liberty, three heads of wheat in her right hand, and in her left the small end of her horn, the mouth of which is resting at her feet, and the contents of horn rolling ont. In the exergon is inserted the words May 20, 1775, above the coat of arms. Around the circumference is the legend 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina' and the motto 'Esse Quam Videri'." (Rev., s. 5339; Code ss. 3328, 3329; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 35; 1883, c. 392; 1893, c. 145.)

THE STATE BIRD

By popular choice the Cardinal was selected for adoption as our State Bird as of March 4, 1943. (S. L. 1943 c. 595; G. S. 145-2).

This bird is sometimes called the Winter Redbird because it is most conspicuous in winter and is the only "redbird" present at that season. It is an all year round resident and one of the commonest birds in our gardens and thickets. It is about the size of a Catbird with a longer tail, red all over, except that the throat and region around the bill is black; the head is conspicuously crested and the large stout bill is red; the female is much duller—the red being mostly confined to the crest, wings and tail. There are no seasonal changes in the plumage.

The Cardinal is a fine singer, and what is unusual among birds the female is said to sing as well as the male, which latter sex usually has a monopoly of that art in the feathered throngs.

The nest is rather an untidy affair built of weed stems, grass and similar materials in a low shrub, small tree or bunch of briars, usually not over four feet above the ground. The usual number of eggs to a set is three in this State, usually four further North. Possibly the Cardinal raises an extra brood down here to make up the difference, or possibly he can keep up his normal population more easily here through not having to face inclement winters of the colder North. A conspicuous bird faces more hazards.

The cardinal is by nature a seed eater, but he does not dislike small fruits and insects.

THE HALIFAX RESOLUTION

Adopted by the Provincial Congress of North Carolina in Session at Halifax, April 12, 1776.

"The Select Committee taking into Consideration the usurpations and violences attempted and committed by the King and Parliament of Britain against America, and the further Measures to be taken for frustrating the same, and for the better defence of this province reported as follows, to wit,

"It appears to your Committee that pursuant to the Plan concerted by the British Ministry for subjugating America, the King and Parliament of Great Britain have usurped a Power over the Persons and Properties of the People unlimited and uncontrouled; and disregarding their humble Petitions for Peace, Liberty and safety, have made divers Legislative Acts, denouncing War Famine and every Species of Calamity against the Continent in Gen-That British Fleets and Armies have been and still are daily employed in destroying the People and committing the most horrid devastations on the Country. That Governors in different Colonies have declared Protection to Slaves who should imbrue their Hands in the Blood of their Masters. That the Ships belonging to America are declared prizes of War and many of them have been violently seized and confiscated in consequence of which multitudes of the people have been destroyed or from easy Circumstances reduced to the most Lamentable distress.

"And whereas the moderation hitherto manifested by the United Colonies and their sincere desire to be reconciled to the mother Country on Constitutional Principles, have procured no mitigation of the aforesaid Wrongs and usurpations, and no hopes remain of obtaining redress by those Means alone which have been hitherto tried. Your Committee are of Opinion that the house should enter into the following Resolve, to wit

"Resolved that the delegates for this Colony in the Continental Congress be impowered to concur with the delegates of the other Colonies in declaring Independency, and forming foreign Alliances, reserving to this Colony the Sole, and Exclusive right of forming a Constitution and Laws for this Colony, and of appointing delegates from time to time (under the direction of a general Representation thereof) to meet the delegates of the other Colonies for such purposes as shall be hereafter pointed out."

NAME OF STATE AND NICKNAMES

In 1629 King Charles the First of England "erected into a province," all the land from Albemarle Sound on the north to the St. John's River on the south, which he directed should be called Carolina. The word Carolina is from the word Carolus, the Latin form of Charles.

When Carolina was divided in 1710, the southern part was called Souuth Carolina and the northern or older settlement was called North Carolina, or the "Old North State." Historians had recorded the fact that the principal products of this State were "tar, pitch and turpentine." It was during one of the fiercest battles of the War Between the States, so the story goes, that the column supporting the North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle the North Carolinians, who had successfully fought it out alone, were greeted from the passing deretict regiment with the question: "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?" Quick as a flash came the answer: "No; not a bit; old Jeff's bought it all up." "Is that so; what is he going to do with it?" was asked. "He is going to put it on you-uns heels to make you stick better in the next fight." Creecy relates that General Lee, hearing of the incident, said: "God bless the Tar Heel boys," and from that they took the name.-Adapted from Grandfather Tales of North Carolina by R. B. Creecy and Histories of North Carolina Regiments, Vol. III, by Walter Clark.

The State Motto

The General Assembly of 1893 (chapter 145) adopted the words "Esse Quam Videri" as the State's motto and directed that these words with the date "20 May, 1775," should be placed with our Coat of Arms upon the Great Seal of the State.

The words "Esse Quam Videri" mean "to be rather than to seem." Nearly every State has adopted a motto, generally in Latin. The reason for their mottoes being in Latin is that the Latin tongue is far more condensed and terse that the English. The three words, "Esse Quam Videri," require at least six English words to express the same idea.

Curiosity has been aroused to learn the origin of our State motto. It is found in Cicero in his essay on Friendship (Cicero de Amicitia, Chap. 26)

It is a little singular that until the act of 1893 the sovereign State of North Carolina had no motto since its declaration of independence. It was one of the very few states which did not have a motto and the only one of the original thirteen without one. (Rev., $5320; 1893, c. 145; G. S. 144-2.)

The State Colors

The General Assembly of 1945 declared Red and Blue of shades appearing in the North Carolina State Flag and the American Flag as the official State Colors. (Session Laws, 1945, c. 878.)

The State Flower

The General Assembly of 1941 designated the dogwood as the State flower. (Public Laws, 1941, c. 289; G. S. 145-1.)

The State Song

The song known as "The Old North State" was adopted as the official song of the State of North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1927. (Public Laws, 1927, c. 26; G.S. 149-1).

The State Shell

The General Assembly of 1965 designated the Scotch Bonnet as the State Shell. (Session Laws, 1965, c. 681).

The State Tree

The pine was officially designated as the State tree by the General Assembly of 1963. (Session Laws, 1963, c. 41).

The State Toast

Officially adopted as the toast of North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1957. (Session Laws, 1957, c. 777).

Here's to the land of the long leaf pine,

The summer land where the sun doth shine.

Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great,

Here's to "Down Home," the Old North State!

Here's to the land of the cotton bloom white,

Where the scuppernong perfumes the breeze at night.

Where the soft southern moss and jessamine mate,

'Neath the murmuring pines of the Old North State!

Here's to the land where the galax grows, Where the rhododendron's rosette glows, Where soars Mount Mitchell's summit great. In the "Land of the Sky," in the Old North State!

Here's to the land where maidens are fair, Where friends are true and cold hearts rare, The near land, the dear land whatever fate, The blest land, the best land, the Old North State!

THE OLD NORTH STATE

(Traditional air as sung in 1926)

CONSTITUTION

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union and the existence of our civil, political and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof, and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE 1

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

That the Great, general and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and Government of the United States, and those of the people of this State to the rest of the American people may be defined and affirmed, we do declare:

- Section 1. The equality and rights of persons. That we hold it to be self-evident that all persons are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.
- Sec. 2. Political power and government. That all political power is vested in, and derived from, the people; all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.
- Sec. 3. Internal government of the State. That the people of this State have the inherent, sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering and abolishing their Constitution and form of government whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness; but every such right should be exercised in pursuance of law, and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 4 That there is no right to seedle. That this State shall ever remain a member of the American Union; that the people thereof are a part of the American Nation; that there is no right on the part of the State to seedle, and that all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union or to sever said Nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State.

Sec. 5. Of allegiance to the United States Government. That every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and Government of the United States, and that no law or ordinance of the State in contravention or subversion thereof can have any binding force.

See, 6. Public debt; bonds issued under Ordinance of Convention of 1868, '68-'69, '69-'70, declared invalid; exception. The State shall never assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any debt or obligation, express or implied, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; nor shall the General Assembly assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any tax to pay, either directly or indirectly, expressed or implied, any debt or bond incurred, or issued, by authority of the Convention of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, nor any debt or bond incurred or issued by the Legislature of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, either at its special session of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, or at its regular sessions of the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, except the bonds issued to fund the interest on the old debt of the State, unless the proposing to pay the same shall have first been submitted to the people and by them ratified by the vote of a majority of all the qualified voters of the State, at a regular election held for that purpose.

Sec. 7. Exclusive emoluments, etc. No person or set of persons are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

- Sec. 8. The legislative, executive and judicial powers distinct. The legislative, executive, and supreme judicial powers of the government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.
- Sec. 9. Of the power of suspending laws. All power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, by any authority, without the consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights, and ought not to be exercised.
 - Sec. 10 Elections free. All elections ought to be free.
- Sec. 11. In eriminal prosecutions. In all criminal prosecutions, every person charged with crime has the right to be informed of the accusation and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for defense, and not be compelled to give self-incriminating evidence, or to pay costs, jail fees, or necessary witness fees of the defense, unless found guilty.
- Sec. 12. Answers to eriminal charges. No person shall be put to answer any criminal charge except as hereinafter allowed, but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment. But any person, when represented by counsel, may, under such regulations as the Legislature shall prescribe, waive indictment in all except capital cases.
- Sec. 13. Right of jury. No Person shall be convicted of any crime but by the unanimous verdict of a jury of good and lawful persons in open court. The Legislature may, however, provide other means of trial, for petty misdemeanors, with the right of appeal.
- Sec. 14. Excessive bail. Excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.
- Sec. 15. General warrants. General warrants, whereby any officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the act committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offense is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not to be granted.
- Sec. 16. Imprisonment for debt. There shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, except in cases of fraud.

- Sec. 17. No persons taken, etc., but by law of land. No person ought to be taken, imprisoned or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed or exiled, or in any manner deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the law of the land.
- Sec. 18. Persons restrained of liberty. Every person restrained of his liberty is entitled to a remedy to inquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the same, if unlawful; and such remedy ought not to be denied or delayed.
- Sec. 19. Controversies at law respecting property. In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and ought to remain sacred and inviolable. No person shall be excluded from jury service on account of sex.
- Sec. 20. Freedom of the press. The freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and therefore ought never to be restrained, but every individual shall be held responsible for the abuse of the same.
- Sec. 21. Habeas corpus. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.
- Sec. 22. Property qualification. As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon, or modified by, property, therefore no property qualification ought to affect the right to vote or hold office.
- Sec. 23. Representation and taxation. The people of the State ought not to be taxed, or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty without the consent of themselves, or their representatives in General Assembly, freely given.
- Sec. 24 Militia and the right to bear arms. A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be kept up, and the military should be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power. Nothing herein contained shall justify the practice of carrying concealed weapons, or prevent the Legislature from enacting penal statutes against said practice.
- Sec. 25. Right of the people to assemble logether. The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the Legislature for redress of grievances. But secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people, and should not be tolerated.

- Sec. 26. Religious liberty. All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and no human authority should, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.
- Sec. 27. Education. The people have a right to the privilege of education, and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.
- Sec. 28. Elections should be frequent. For redress of grievances, and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held.
- Sec. 29. Recurrence to fundamental principles. A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.
- Sec. 30. Hereditary emoluments, etc. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors ought to be granted or conferred in this State.
- Sec. 31. Perpetuities, etc. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free State, and ought not to be allowed.
- Sec. 32. Ex post facto laws. Retrospective laws, punishing acts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust and incompatible with liberty; wherefore no ex post facto law ought to be made. No law taxing retrospectively sales, purchases, or other acts previously done, ought to be passed.
- Sec. 33. Slavery prohibited. Slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than for crime, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted, shall be, and are hereby, forever prohibited within the State.
- Sec. 34. State boundaries. The limits and boundaries of the State shall be and remain as they now are.
- Sec. 35. Courts shall be open. All courts shall be open; and every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay.

Sec. 36. Soldiers in time of peace. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 37. Treason against the State. Treason against the State sall consist only in levying war against it or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. No conviction of treason or attainder shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture.

Sec. 38. Other rights of the people. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people; and all powers not herein delegated remain with the people.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws. to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

(The American's Creed by William Tyler Page was adopted by an act of Congress, April 6, 1918.)

THE AMERICAN FLAG, IT'S ORIGIN

In 1775, the Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse carried a standard with thirteen alternate blue and silver stripes in the upper left-hand corner. At Cambridge on January 2, 1776, Washington without authorization of the Continental Congress raised a flag consisting of thirteen alternate white and red stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in a blue field in the upper left-hand corner. It was called the "Union Flag," "Grand Union Flag," and the "Continental Flag," and was employed until displaced by the Stars and Stripes adopted by the Continental Congress.

The beautiful tradition that Betsy Ross, as early as June 1776, made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington but changed the points of the stars from six to five, has become a classic. Historians doubt its accuracy. Half a dozen localities claim to have been the place where the Stars and Stripes was first used. Within New York State such contention has been for Fort Ann on July 8, Fort Stanwix on August 3, Bennington on August 13, and Saratoga on September 19, 1777. The flag with thirteen stripes and thirteen stars, authorized on June 14, 1777, continued to be used as the national emblem until Congress passed the following act, which President Washington signed:

"That from and after May 1, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; and that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field." This action was necessitated by the admission of the States of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union.

The flag of 1795 had the stars arranged in three rows of five each instead of in a circle, and served for 23 years.

With the admission of more new states, however, it became apparent that the 1795 flag would have to be further modified; hence in 1818 a law was passed by Congress providing:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars, white in a blue field.

"That on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and that such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding such admission."

Since 1818 additional stars have been added until today there are 50 on the flag. No law has been passed to designate how the stars shall be arranged. At one time they formed a design of a larger star. Now they form five rows of six stars each and four rows of five stars each.

Betsy Ross, it is now said, lived at 233 Arch Street, Philadelphia, and not at 239. She made flags, but says Theodore D. Gottlieb, she never made the first Stars and Stripes. He adds: "The Department of State, the War and Navy departments, the Historical Sites Commission of Philadelphia and other official bodies repudiate the legend. The book and pamphlet material available is overwhelmingly against the legend.

"The story arose for the first time on March 14, 1870, when William J. Canby read a paper before the Pennsylvania Historical Society in which he states that in 1836, when his grandmother. Betsy Ross, was 84 years old and he was 11, she told him the story. He apparently thought little of it because nothing was done until 1857, when at the suggestion of his Aunt Clarissa, oldest daughter of Betsy, he wrote out the notes as he remembered the conversation.

"Nothing further was done until 1870 when he wrote his paper. The Historical Society of Pennsylvania thought so little of the paper it neither catalogued nor kept a copy of it. Even George Canby, younger brother of William, disputed several points in the paper.

"The legend grew to strength from 1888 to 1893 when promotors secured an option on the so-called Flag House.

"Modern historical researchers are giving much thought to Francis Hopkinson of New Jersey as the possible designer and the Fillmore or Bennington flag as the first flag."

The Proper Display of the American Flag

(The United States Code, 1958) (Chapter 10, Sections 171-172, 174-178)

- Sec. 171. When the national anthem is played and the flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. When the flag is displayed, all present should face the flag and salute.
- Sec. 172. The following is designated as the pledge of allegiance to the flag: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Such pledge should be rendered by standing with the right hand over the heart. However, civilians will always show full respect to the flag when the pledge is given by merely standing at attention. men removing the headdress. Persons in uniform shall render the military salute.
- Sec. 174. (a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect.
- (b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.
- (c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement.
- (d) The flag should be displayed on all days when the weather permits, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, Jan. 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, February 22; Army Day, April 6; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Memorial Day (half staff until noon), May 30; Flag Day, June 14: Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, October 12; Navy Day, October 27; Veteran's Day, November 11; Thanks giving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (dates of admission); and on State holidays.

- (e) The flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near the main administration building of every public institution
- (f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.
- (g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

- (a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i) of this section.
- (b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motorcar, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.
- (c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during the church services for the personnel of the Navy.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above or in a position of superior prominence or honor to or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the Headquarters of the United Nations.

- (d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the right of the flag of the United States.
- (g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of a church, or on the speaker's platform in a public auditorium, the flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform should be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he faces the congregation or audience. But when the flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.
- (1) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.
- (m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. By "half-staff" is meant lowering the flag to one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. Crepe streamers may be affixed to spear heads or flagstaffs in a parade only by order of the President of the United States.
- (n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground.

The Pledge to the Flag

(Taught in many of the schools and repeated by pupils daily)

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America And to the Republic for which it stands.

One Nation under God, indivisible.

With liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge to the Flag, according to a report of the Historical Committee of the United States Flag Association (May 18, 1939). was written by Francis Bellamy (August 1892), a member of the editorial staff of The Youth's Companion, in Boston, Massachusetts. It was first repeated at the exercises in connection with the celebration of Columbus Day (October 12, 1892, Old Style). The idea of this national celebration on Columbus Day was largely that of James B. Upham. one of the junior proprietors of The Youth's Companion.

Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. was the designer of the Stars and Stripes—not Betsy Ross of Philadelphia, who made flags. He also designed the first Great Seal of the United States, and a number of coins and several items of paper currency in the early days of the Republic.

Hopkinson, born in Philadelphia (September 21, 1737), and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was the first native American composer of a secular song, "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free." He was a lawyer and later a judge in New Jersey and then in Pennsylvania. He died in Philadelphia (May 9, 1791). His portrait, painted by himself, hangs in the rooms of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia. He played the organ and harpsichord.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON

The Capitol building in Washington, D. C., is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately three and one-half acres. Its length, from north to south, is 751 feet, four inches; its width, including approaches, is 350 feet; and its location is described as being in latitude 38°53′20.4″ N. and longitude 70°00′35.7″ W. from Greenwich. Its height above the base line on the east front to the top of the Statue of Freedom is 287 feet five and one-half inches. The dome is built of iron, and the aggregate weight of material used in its construction is 8.909.200 pounds.

The Statue of Freedom surmounting the dome is of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Thomas Crawford, father of Francis Marion Crawford, the novelist, in Rome, and the plaster model shipped to this country. It was cast in bronze at the shops of Clark Mills, on the Bladensburg Road, near Washington. The cost of the casting and the expenses in connection were $20,796.82, and the sculptor was paid $3,000 for the plaster model. It was erected and placed in its present position Decembe. 2, 1863.

The grounds have had an area of 58.8 acres, at one time a part of Cern Abby Manor, and at an early date were occupied by a subtribe of the Algonquin Indians known as the Powhatans, whose council house was then located at the foot of the hill. By subsequent purchase of ground at the North of the Capitol and at the west of the new House Office building the area of the grounds has been increased to 139½ acres.

The Rotunda is 97 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet, 3 inches.

The Senate Chamber is 113 feet, 3 inches, in length by 80 feet. 3 inches, in width and 36 feet in height. The galleries will accommodate 682 persons.

The Representatives' Hall is 139 feet in length by 93 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

The room, until 1935 the meeting place of the Supreme Court. was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library,

The Capitol has a floor area of 14 acres, and 430 rooms are devoted to office, committee, and storage purposes. There are 14.518 square feet of skylights, 679 windows, and 550 doorways.

The dome receives light through 108 windows, and from the architect's office to the dome there are 365 steps, one for each day of the year.

The southeast cornerstone of the original building was laid September 18, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries on Aquia Creek, Va. The original designs were prepared by Dr. William Thornton, and the work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallet, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects.

The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected them. On August 24, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired.

In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bullfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827. was $2,433,844.13.

The cornerstone of the extensions was laid on the Fourth of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectual direction of Thomas U. Walter until 1865, when he resigned, and it was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries of Lee, Massachusetts, and that in the columns from the quarries from Cockeysville, Maryland. The House extension was first occupied for legislative purposes December 16, 1857, and the Senate January 4, 1859.

The House office building was begun in 1905 and occupied on January 10, 1908; later a story on top was added. The Senate office building was started in 1906 and occupied on March 5, 1909. The House building cost. with site. $4.860,155; the Senate structure. $5.019,251.

Among the paintings in the Capitol are:

In Rotunda: Signing of the Declaration of Independence, Surrender of General Burgoyne, Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Va., George Washington Resigning His Commission as Commander in Chief of the Army, all by John Trumbull.

Baptism of Pocahontas, by John G. Chapman; Landing of Columbus, by John Vanderlyn; Discovery of the Mississippi River by DeSoto, by William H. Powell; Embarkation of the Pilgrims by Robert W. Weir.

In House Wing: Westward the Course of Empire Takes Its Way, by Emanuel Leutze; First Reading of the Emancipation Proclamation, by Francis Bicknell Carpenter.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

(Unanimously Adopted in Congress, July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia)

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitles them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights: that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That, to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed: That, whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such forms, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right then selves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of Our Legislature.

He has affected to render the Military independent of, and superior to, the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally, the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-Citizens, taken captive on the high Seas, to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms; Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which inevitably interrupt our connections with correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE. THEREFORE, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled; appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be free and independent States; that they are Absolved from All Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

PART II CENSUS

POPULATION OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

Eighteenth Census of the United States: 1960

The population of North Carolina's urban places continued to grow faster than that of the rural areas between 1950 and 1960, according to the eighteenth decennial census, issued by Robert W. Burgess, Director of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Final figures show that the urban population increased from 1,368,101 in 1950 to 1,801,921 in 1960, or 31.6 per cent, while the rural population increased from 2,693,828 in 1950 to 2,754,234 in 1960 or an increase of only 2.2 per cent. The final count of the Eighteenth Census for the State on April 1, 1960, was 4,556,155 compared to 4,061,929 in 1950, or an increase of 12.2 per cent. Urban residents accounted for 39.5 per cent of the State's population in 1960 as compared with 33.7 per cent in 1950. Rural areas in 1960 accounted for 60.5 per cent of the total population. The Census Bureau considers as urban areas the incorporated places of 2,500 or more, or unincorporated places of 2,500 or more located outside urbanized areas. The remaining territory is classified as rural.

There were 35 incorporated places of 10,000 or more in 1960. Five of these (Chapel Hill, Jacksonville, Lenoir, Lumberton and Roanoke Rapids) reached that size since 1950. Charlotte remains the State's largest city with a population of 201,564, followed in order by Greensboro with 119,574 and Winston-Salem with 111,135.

According to final figures of the 1960 census 63 of the counties gained in population. Onslow County showed the greatest gain with an increase of 96.7 per cent. Cumberland County placed second with an increase of 54.6 per cent while Mecklenburg was third with a 38.1 per cent gain.

The first census of North Carolina was taken in 1790, returning a population of 393,751. The population has shown an increase at every census since that time. The population passed 1,000,000 between 1860 and 1870, 2,000,000 between 1900 and 1910, 3,000,000 between 1920 and 1930, 4,000,000 between 1940 and 1950, and 4,500,000 between 1950 and 1960. The present population represents a density of 86.4 inhabitants per square mile. North Carolina's total area in square miles is 52,712. Land area is 49.142 square miles: water area is 3,570 square miles.

Table 1 presents the figures for counties and for incorporated places of 10,000 or more, and Table 2 for incorporated places of less than 10,000.

NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM FOR 1966

The Democrats of North Carolina, in convention assembled, respectfully submit the following Platform of the Democratic Party of North Carolina for 1966-67.

INTRODUCTION

The 1966 Platform Committee, operating under the guidance and direction of the State Democratic Executive Committee, offers this document for consideration as a sincere and concise statement of policies and goals established by the Democratic Party to serve the best interest of all North Carolinians.

The philosophy expressed here is partisan only in the sense that it represents dedication to and faith in the kind of government that is responsive to the will of the people, that traditionally looks to the future, unhesitatingly aligns itself with progress and, without compromise, seeks to enhance the well-being and preserve the dignity of the individual.

Each statement in this Platform is the result of much study and deliberation. It is a Platform that represents, not the views of the few individuals charged with the responsibility of its preparation, but the views of countless North Carolinians who subscribe to the belief that the opportunity to earn a productive and prosperous life is the birthright of every citizen of this state.

The accomplishments listed here should be a source of pride for every North Carolinian. The goals listed here must be a challenge for every Democrat. Good government—the kind of government that has become traditional in our state in this century—is not the product of chance. It is the product of determination and sacrifice—the product of vision—the product of people dedicated to the principles of the Democratic Party.

With full awareness of our responsibility—a responsibility entrusted to us by the people of North Carolina—this platform for progress has been developed. With pride in the past, confidence in the present and enthusiasm for the future, this platform can be submitted to the people for endorsement.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY AFFAIRS:

The strength of the Democratic Party in North Carolina has long been a deep awareness on the part of the people that ours is the party of the people, the party of faith and not fear, the party of progress.

North Carolina Democrats have demonstrated a capacity for meeting challenges since the beginning of this century—resulting in progress in all areas affecting the well-being of our people. Most importantly, it has given this state a reservoir of experienced, dedicated leadership at all levels of government.

Today, as we face the great problems and the great opportunities of the most exciting and complex age in the history of man, the responsibilities that rest with this leadership is overwhelming.

It is the responsibility that can and will be met by the Democratic Party. It will be met because the Party is strong, because the Party is dedicated, and because its members are united in their determination to continue building a more abundant life for all North Carolinians.

The youthful faction of the Party—the Teen-Dem Clubs and the Young Democratic Clubs, both individual units and members of the Confederation—continues to expand in size and influence. The contribution of these young North Carolinians to their state and their Party grows daily, and their vigorous alignment with Democratic ideals is not only inspirational, but insures the vitality of the Party in the years ahead.

The women of the Party, and especially those members of our Democratic Women's Clubs, have assumed additional responsibility in recent years and merit a special commendation for the service they have rendered the cause of good government in North Carolina

We pledge our continued support for these vital branches of the Party and charge the State Democratic Executive Committee with the responsibility for actively encouraging and assisting their efforts to insure good government in North Carolina.

STATE GOVERNMENT

No state in the nation receives more competent and loyal service from its public officials and employees than North Carolina. These individuals have contributed immeasurably to our state's reputation for good government. The Democratic Party is fully aware of this fact and has sought, through the years, to insure the maintenance of these high standards by fair treatment and compensation for service rendered. We pledge a continuation of this respectful relationship which benefits every citizen of North Carolina.

No less essential to the cause of good government are the private citizens of the state who give their time and talent to service on governing and advisory bodies of state agencies, institutions and councils. Their contribution to the well-being of our state and its people cannot be expressed, but the stability and enlightened direction of governmental affairs is eloquent testimonial to the quality of their service.

Legislative: The North Carolina General Assembly, chosen by the people to insure their progress, has, for more than six decades of Democratic leadership, met the responsibility entrusted to it. It has proven faithful to the knowledge that ours is a great state with great potential. It has proven faithful to the concept that ours must remain a state and nation governed by law and not by men. It has labored long and effectively to develop that potential and protect that concept. We ask that the General Assembly continue this dedication. To that end we unhesitatingly pledge the support of the Democratic Party.

The Judiciary: Improvement in the administration of justice is the constant aim of the judiciary in North Carolina. That effort, supported by the Democratic Party, resulted in the enactment of The Judicial Department Act by the 1965 General Assembly. Implementation of this Act will greatly improve the court system of the state.

The North Carolina Courts Commission, an arm of the General Assembly, continues to work on legislation for enactment in 1967 that will further modernize the court system of North Carolina to insure equal justice under the law for all men.

In the firm belief that impartial justice is a cornerstone of democracy, the Democratic Party will continue to encourage and support all reasonable efforts in the area of judicial reform.

AGRICULTURE:

The Democratic Party has traditionally led and, in large measure, been responsible for action resulting in the greatest farming productivity in the history of mankind. In spite of this, technical advances and products of research have forced increasing numbers of families to leave the farm. Obviously, to strive for a better balanced economy while maintaining pace with the requirements of a growing population, it will be necessary to develop new and better methods of stabilizing our rural population while increasing the income of our farm families.

The Democratic Party pledges its firm support to all governmental agencies with responsibilities that relate to these goals. North Carolina farm products must be processed and distributed so that the tarmers of this state receive a fair share of agricultural income. Marketing service programs that are directed toward assisting farmers and trades people with specific problems should be expanded. Research and consumer protection programs should be expanded to insure renewed confidence on the part of the public in the farm products we produce. Extension programs and agency projects designed to improve farm income and all facets of rural life should be continued.

CORRECTIONAL PROGRAMS:

Democratic leadership has given North Carolina a prison and correctional system that is generally recognized as one of the best in the nation. Emphasis within the prison system is placed on productive work, with increasing attention given to programs of education, vocational training and counseling designed to return prison inmates to society as responsible, contributing citizens. This enlightened approach is equally evident in our juvenile correction programs and in the Probation Commission and Board of Paroles. We support the continuation of these policies.

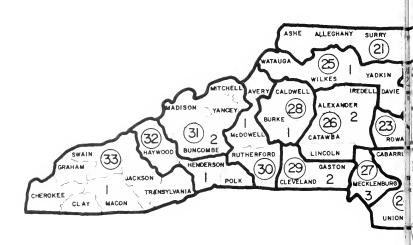

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The theme of "total development" as envisioned and promoted by Governor Dan Moore is moving North Carolina in the direction of the most beneficial use of all the State's resources to insure economic progress. The goal of making every citizen productive and providing every citizen with an opportunity to benefit fully from his productivity must be maintained. The past year saw all-time records set in capital investments in new and expanded industry. More than 37,000 new jobs were created and payrolls increased by $137 million. There is every indication that 1966 will set new records.

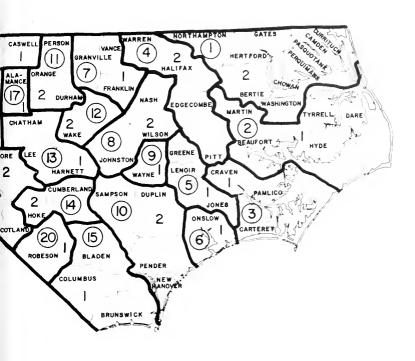

More than 3,300 new business corporations were chartered in North Carolina during the past year and more than 400 foreign corporations were added to the list authorized to do business in our state. Total resources in State-chartered banks rose above $3 billion. Greater harmony has been established in the area of public and private utilities than has been known in recent decades.

All of these indications of sound progress should be sources of pride for the political party that provided the leadership and vision which made them possible. But pride in past achievements, at this critical time in our history, must serve to instill, not complacency, but a constantly new and vibrant awareness of the responsibility we have for the future. There is much that remains to be done. There are new challenges daily in every economic sphere. And each challenge is an opportunity for economic progress—for a better way of life for the people of North Carolina. The great wealth of our state—its people and its natural resources—represents a potential that has only begun to develop. The Democratic Party recognizes this potential and eagerly accepts the responsibility that it imposes.

EDUCATION:

The total economic and cultural development of North Carolina requires the full educational development of every citizen.

The Democratic Party, because it is the party of the people and not the party of special privilege, has traditionally given strong support to the maximum extension of universal educational opportunity. Under Democratic leadership since the beginning of this century, the cause of education has flourished. The dream of Charles B. Aycock has become reality. Clearly, the Democratic Party is the "Education Party" in North Carolina.

The public schools come first. Here the foundation for all progress is laid. Strong support for public schools is essential. It will be continued and strengthened.

The requirements of the age in which we live demand that we place no limit on educational opportunity. Toward this end, we have established a system of community colleges, technical institutes and industrial education centers to insure the availability of facilities offering opportunities for maximum development of individual skills. We must expand these facilities and increase our efforts to encourage our people to take advantage of them.

Higher education completes the system of educational opportunity required for total development of our human and natural resources. Strong support will continue to be given to university and four-year college education.

ELECTION LAWS:

The State Board of Elections and those dedicated men and women in every county of North Carolina who continue to administer fair, honest, and impartial elections throughout the broad election complex of over 2,100 precincts are, in fact, our greatest fundamental democratic freedom—the right to vote.

As Democrats, pledged by tradition to this basic freedom, we pledge to continue providing an enviable election process in this state. We support the State and County Boards of Elections in their continuing work to preserve our free election process for present and future generations of North Carolinians.

We further commend the action of the Democrats in the 1965 General Assembly who provided the leadership for the establishment of an election law study commission charged with the responsibility of recommending any alterations in existing laws deemed necessary to insure the voting rights of all our people.

FISCAL AFFAIRS:

North Carolina is in excellent financial condition. The bonds of the state are rated AAA—the highest rate available to state bonds. North Carolina's high and enviable reputation in fiscal affairs is due to the fact that sound business principles and fiscal integrity have been the basis of the state's policy for over 60 years. The prudent and sound management of this most basic of all governmental functions reflects credit on North Carolina Democrats of the past and present and represents a sacred trust to be passed on to future Democrats.

HERITAGE AND CULTURE:

The Democratic Party has traditionally supported the position that an understanding and appreciation of an individual's heritage is vitally important to that individual's capacity for appraising the present and contributing to the future.

North Carolina has a great heritage. It should be preserved. North Carolina has a great capacity for cultural development. It should be pursued vigorously.

The esthetic reasons for steadily increasing attention to our heritage and our cuttural development are sufficient unto themselves. But we live in a practical society and in this society there is a very definite application of practicality to the development of our heritage and culture. Tourism is our third most productive industry. Increasing leisure time will bring larger number of visitors to our state and will enable more of our own people to seek pleasure and inspiration in North Carolina's historical sites and cultural developments.

The Democratic Party pledges increasing attention to activities in these areas.

HIGHWAYS:

Democratic Administrations in North Carolina have worked diligently down through the years to develop a highway system which will meet the needs of the people by encouraging the expansion of commerce and industry and making travel as safe and convenient as possible for our own citizens and the increasing number of visitors who contribute substantially to the economy.

Today, with funds from the $300 million road bond issue, the Appalachia Program and other State and Federal sources, highways are being constructed at an unprecedented rate.

The Democratic Party pledges its continued support to all efforts to expand and improve our existing highway system through the fair and equitable distribution and application of available funds.

HUMAN RELATIONS:

Traditionally, the Democratic Party supports the premise that society owes to every citizen the opportunity to progress to the limit of his individual interests and talents. We subscribe further to the premise that this opportunity carries with it commensurate obligations and responsibilities.

The proud progress registered in North Carolina in recent years in human relations reflects credit on all North Carolinians. That progress must continue. Toward that end we commend the program of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council and urge continued support for that program.

We call upon all County Boards of Commissioners and municipal councils and boards to establish local Good Neighbor or Human Relations Councils to supplement the work of the State Council.

LABOR:

We pledge our continued support for humane labor laws, safe and healthful working conditions, just Workmen's Compensation and an Unemployment Insurance Program that is fair and equitable to all concerned.

We support laws guaranteeing employees the right-to-work and employers the right to conduct their businesses under the laws. In order to assure increased employment, industrial schools and proper training for skilled labor will create better jobs resulting in a broadened and higher standard of living.

We subscribe to the premise that "a laborer is worthy of his hire" and commend the Democratic General Assembly for having made North Carolina the only state in the Southeast to enact a State Minimum Wage Law for the protection of employees.

We recommend that North Carolina's women be given equal compensation for equal work, equal promotion for equal preparation, and we endorse the principle of equal responsibility for all employees performing work of comparable responsibility.

NATURAL RESOURCES:

The Democratic Party of North Carolina has traditionally supported the premise that, second only to its people, its natural resources are its greatest asset. These God-given resources, with which North Carolina is more than abundantly endowed, exist to benefit man. They are a sacred trust to be used profitably and equitably by each generation to the extent that the next generation is not denied the same benefits.

With the steady increase in leisure time available to the average citizen, we must provide more opportunities for healthful outdoor recreation. The preservation of our wildlife resources is essential to this effort.

In view of the fact that water is the best basic of all these natural resources, we propose that special attention be given at this time to methods of insuring the conservation and wise use of the state's water resources.

PUBLIC HEALTH:

As a state that has pioneered in the public health field, we advocate continued improvement of public health services through close cooperation of local, state and federal agencies to insure adequate protection for all North Carolinians.

Recognizing the growth of our population, the outstanding public health program now established in North Carolina must be carried forward to decrease the infant mortality rate and reduce maternal deaths. We must deal effectively with chronic disease and environmental health factors. We must continue educational activities in all areas where such activities have proven to be effective health measures.

The 1965 Democratic General Assembly is to be commended on its positive efforts to confront the tragic disease of alcoholism. We urge continued attention to this problem and pledge the support of the Democratic Party in those efforts.

North Carolina has pioneered in the development and maintenance of an effective mental health program. The Democratic Party, with pride in its past contributions in this field, offers its pledge of continuing support.

SENIOR CITIZENS:

The record of the Democratic Party speaks eloquently for its firm belief that the senior citizen occupies a vital position in the economic, social and cultural development of the state. We feel strongly that the knowledge, experience and talents of these individuals must be exploited fully, and we urge that the 1967 General Assembly give particular attention to the most beneficial use of this great asset. We further pledge continuing support for the various agencies with responsibilities in areas affecting, directly or indirectly, the senior citizen.

TRAFFIC SAFETY:

The tragic loss of life due to accidents on our streets and high-ways is a challenge to every North Carolinian. It is a particular challenge to the Democratic Party and the leadership it has provided our state. Under the courageous insistence of Governor Moore, the challenge is being met.

The 1965 General Assembly moved positively in the direction needed to combat this tragic situation. Its action in establishing new laws, programs and agencies to promote traffic safety reflected credit on every member of the Legislature and every citizen who supported those actions.

The Democratic Party feels strongly that this is a problem which transcends all political considerations and is deserving of the full support of all North Carolinians. We believe the key to traffic safety is sound, balanced, imaginative, cooperative action by public officials with the courage to lead. We pledge our support to that leadership.

VETERANS:

With increasing number of North Carolinians acquiring the status of veteran through courageous service of Viet Nam, it is particularly important that continuing support be given to those agencies whose responsibilities relate to veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans.

TAXATION:

North Carolina remains at one of the nation's lowest levels of combined state and local taxation per capita and at the same time offers public service programs which continually rate national attention. We advocate continued emphasis on the businesslike, economical administration of government; a tax structure that equitably distributes the cost of services required from government; increased personal exemptions, if economic conditions warrant, to correspond with federal income tax exemptions, and just and firm administration of the tax laws of the state.

The Democratic Party opposes and will work diligently to prevent an increase in state taxes.

WELFARE:

The Democratic Party recognizes that the prevention and alleviation of poverty are legitimate concerns of government, and as such merit action, not by public welfare alone, but by the entire community. The effectiveness of this effort at both the community and state level, and the extent to which this concern is translated into reality, have marked bearing on the total development of the state. In acknowledgement of this fact, the Democratic Party pledges continuing interest in and support for welfare programs with special attention given those programs designed to help people help themselves.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS:

Democratic administrations have benefitted the people of North Carolina with able, dedicated leadership. A close working relationship between administrations at the state and national levels is essential to the continuation of these benefits. Toward this end, we encourage continued cooperation with the Democratic National Committee and support for the National Administration.

At this time of crises, when freedom is threatened on many fronts throughout the world, we particularly commend the President for his courage in maintaining this nation's commitment in Viet Nam.

Remembering the confusion, indifference, uncertainty and lack of national purpose that characterized Republican administrations of the past, we unhesitatingly pledge our support for all nominees of the Democratic Party.

NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM 1966

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The present national Administration, and indeed the Democratic Party itself, is marked, among other things, by two extremely dangerous trends: One, an ever-increasing unwarranted centralization of power in the Federal Government; and two, an utter disregard for financial responsibility in our national fiscal affairs

We ask only for the free opportunity to do things for ourselves and our country. This is a nation which has prospered in a climate of freedom which has permitted each individual to develop his maximum potential. We must move away from the deadening influence of paternalism and return to policies which stimulate and encourage individual incentive. Then, and only then, can our nation march forward to its greater destiny—strong enough to discourage outside influences and sensitive to the welfare of all its citizens at home.

FISCAL INTEGRITY:

The national spiraling inflation created by the administration's domestic and international give-away program must be curbed by more responsible Republican leadership. The record of the present administration shows a continuing disregard for the importance of fiscal integrity in national affairs. We commend the efforts of Congressmen Charles R. Jonas and James T. Broyhill to stem the tide of irresponasible governmental spending, and we pledge our best to return them to Congress with others of like mind. This state needs more Republican Congressmen to help organize the Congress and direct its policies into channels more in line with the thinking of the people of North Carolina.

SECTION 14-B:

We commend the successful efforts made by the Congressional Republican leadership to prevent the repeal by the persent administration of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act. Although supporting responsible unionism, we do not feel that compulsory unionism is in the best interest of the individual American laborer, the American labor movement, nor in the best interest.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS:

We regret the irresolution and lack of leadership displayed by the current administration in stemming Communist imperialism throughout the world, and in particular in Southeast Asia. Because of the indecisiveness of the present administration our international prestige is at its lowest ebb, and Communist aggression moves forward. We call upon our national leadership to let the interest and national safety of this country and the West be the polar star for the guidance of our foreign policy—and pursue that policy with firmness and with strength.

STATE AFFAIRS

North Carolina possesses potential unexcelled by any of the other 49 states. That potential is the ability of our citizens. This state has been unable to utilize its potential because of the one-party system of government exhibited by the Democratic Party in the last 65 years. When any political party is too long in power, it becomes primarily interested in its own perpetuation without primary regard to the best interest of the people. Our present low position among the states in education, health, welfare, income, etc. is proof of the results of the one-party system.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

With a firm conviction that an excellent educational system is the first prerequisite for representative government, and with the belief that only educated citizens can preserve the liberties won for them at great cost by their forefathers, the Republican Party in North Carolina dedicates itself to the position that education is the most important function of State and Local Government in a free society.

We praise the dedication our teachers have shown under adverse circumstances. North Carolina education programs rank near the bottom in the nation in all categories. In spite of low ratings in education, the records tend to show that we rank near the top in per capita expenditures for education. It seems evident that we are paying for more education than our schools are providing.

A comparison of the educational history of Republican States with that of Democrat States during the last 65 years points to the undeniable fact that Republican States lead the nation in the field of education, while Democrat States rank near the bottom in every evaluation of school standards. We pledge ourselves to the task of elevating North Carolina from the low educational position she has occupied during 65 years of Democrat rule.

The Republican Party favors a program of incentives and teacher selection to attract and hold superior teachers. Instructors should be highly trained for the areas in which they teach. Teachers must be given time to teach and pupils time in which to learn. We support special programs for the exceptionally talented and for the handicapped. We favor more emphasis on physical fitness in athletic programs, and less attention to spectator sports.

We propose to strengthen job security for those who teach our children by enacting teacher tenure legislation. We feel that this would remove political pressures from the classroom.

We believe that students must attend classes regularly. Because the Democrat Party has been unwilling to accept the responsibility for adequate truancy laws, there are approximately 70,000 boys and girls absent from the classrooms each day our public schools are open.

Our Republican congressional candidates if elected would work for legislation allowing a certain percentage of the Federal Income Tax paid by the residents of North Carolina to be returned directly to the states to be used by the states for education without any federal control. North Carolina Republicans, realizing the urgent need for more and better public school buildings and plants, propose that the State return to the counties 15% of sales and use tax collections to be used for this purpose. This program would eliminate expensive interest payments on bonds and would return some 20 million annually to the counties. Within 10 years North Carolina would have one of the finest if not the finest school plant systems in the nation.

The Republican Party is committeed to the principle that each generation should furnish adequate support for the training of its youth. It is opposed to programs of deficit finance, which bind future generations to relieve the present of its responsibilities. We pledge ourselves to efficient administration, maximum use of school facilities, and elimination of frills or waste in our educational system. We promise constant scrutiny of the entire educational system to the end that essentials be held in focus and the goal of an educated citizenry be realized.

HIGHER EDUCATION

The Republican Party favors continued expansion of our system of higher education in keeping with the steady increase of population and growing complexity of modern society. We favor careful screening of applicants and high standards of performance by those enrolled at such schools.

We favor an expansion of the regional Industrial Training Center Program.

Believing the Community College is a sound solution for those who want such an education as it affords, but are financially unable to bear the high cost in colleges and universities, we favor the eareful location of Community Colleges so that all sections of the state will be provided with this facility. We favor better financial assistance from the State in capital outlay, especially in those sections where the indebtedness and tax rate will prohibit the establishment of a community college without greater state support.

We advocate allowing state supported colleges in diverse sections of the state to offer masters degrees and doctorates in education in order that teachers may continue their work towards these degrees while they teach.

We feel that, in any expansion of our system of higher education, the interests of the State's excellent private colleges should be given consideration.

The Republican Party feels that justice demands that the governing boards of all institutions of higher education be selected on a non-partisan basis.

LOCAL CONTROL OF EDUCATION

Republican members of the 1967 General Assembly will work for legislation returning to the counties and cities control over Boards of Education either by direct vote of the people in nonpartisan elections or by appointment of the board by duly elected county officials.

ELECTION LAWS

If the people of our State are to have improvements in their election laws, it will be a result of the Republican Party and the Republican Party alone. After 65 years of Democrat rule the State's election laws are still the delight of the unscrupulous politician, being filled with unjust provisions and handy loopholes.

As each session of the Democratically controlled legislature passes with only minimal changes in the election laws, it becomes more and more apparent to the people of the State that the hope for free and more honest elections lies with the Republican Party alone.

The Republican Party reproves the party in power for its biennial failure to correct the many faults of its elections laws. It refuses to require periodic reregistration. It circumvents any actions to prevent ballot box abuses. It steadfastly upholds its complete domination of the election boards at every level. In some counties it refuses to allow the minority party to name its own judges. And in every respect it shows a continual lack of concern for truly representative government.

The Republican Party continues to advocate:

- 1. The transfer of the control of elections from the Democratic Party to a system of non-partisan boards of exercising a generally judicial function. The election officials should, therefore, be appointed with the understanding that they represent the State of North Carolina and not any political party.
- 2. A statewide periodic reregistration. There is no better way of purging the registration books. A substantial number of the counties in North Carolina have not had a new registration in the last 12 years. The Republican Party advocates a complete reregistration every 8 years.
- 3. A modern loose-leaf system of registration requiring each registrant to sign his name when registering to vote.
- 4. The repeal of the civilian absentee ballot law. The alterations in the absentee ballot laws grudgingly adopted by the Democratic legislature have done little to dispell the abuses of these provisions. The only means for completely eliminating the flagrant abuses of this law is to completely repeal the entire section.
- 5. The removal of the so-called markers at each polling place. These markers no longer serve the function of assisting the voter in marking his ballot but instead help the unscrapulous politician to control the ballot.
- 6. The more widespread use of voting machines with the State sharing the cost. Voting machines would obviously result in more honest elections, eliminating the stuffed ballot boxes, false bottomed ballot boxes, marked ballots and similar frauds.
- Requiring the voter to sign a poll book before voting.
 Such action would deter many from voting illegally.
- 8. That Federal employees be prohibited from serving as election officials.

We think it reprehensible that the citizens of this State were required to resort to the courts for the elimination of the loyalty oath because the Democratic controlled legislature continually defeated Republican attempts to repeal this oath in the legislature.

The Republican Party endorses these and any improvement to the election laws which would provide more honest and free elections. All just and truly representative governments are based on honest and free elections. It is upon these foundations that the Republican Party bases its goals.

REALIGNMENT OF SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

Since the present rule is that State legislative apportionment must be based on the one-man one-vote theory, the Republican Party believes that the only way to completely comply with the rules is to have the only one-member Senate districts and one-member House districts. To accomplish full-compliance into single-member districts, and realignment after the next census should be by one-member districts.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING

It will be the purpose of Republican representatives and senators to redistrict the Congressional districts of North Carolina on the basis of making the districts geographically compact as far as it is possible without splitting counties.

GOVERNMENT TAXES AND SPENDING

Wherever the citizen of North Carolina turns, he finds himself faced with yet another tax. North Carolina is in the minority of states that levy both general sales and personal income taxes. Our sales tax rate is exceeded only by nine states. Our personal income tax rate is exceeded by only six states. The rate at which we tax corporate income is exceeded in only two states. our motor fuel tax ranks number one with the exception of Hawaii and Alaska. Per capita tax collections in North Carolina have increased from $54.39 in 1950 to $130.32 in 1964—more than doubling over the fifteen year period. The average taxpayer of North Carolina is clearly assuming an ever growing burden. To be sure, some of this burden has been used to the benefit of the taxpayers. But the Republican Party of North Carolina maintains that the taxpaver is not receiving the maximum benefit from his taxes. The Republican Party believes that the taxpavers not only have a right to know how their hard earned tax dollars are being spent, but also to receive maximum benefit from these tax dollars. We maintain that the tax burden on the average taxpayer can actually be decreased while the benefits to him are increased. To these ends, the Republican Party makes the following proposals:

A. Tax Revision

- Replace food tax with a normal tax on alcohol and tobacco.
- Replace 15% of the sales tax collected, back to the counties, giving the counties $20,000,000 per year for school building purposes.

B Tax Reform

1. An Educational Trust Fund will be established within the office of the State Treasurer. All revenue from the general sales tax shall be placed in this trust fund and shall be used for education only. The treasurer will be authorized to invest this money in short-term U. S. Government securities or to deposit the money in financial institutions within North Carolina which are insured by an agency of the U. S. Government. The treasurer will be required to give a short statement monthly and a full report biannually to each legislator on the condition of the Trust Fund. These statements and reports will include such items as income expenditures, location of investments, and interest received on the Fund.

The enactment of this proposal would bring about an increase in the benefits to the people of North Carolina without an increase in taxes. Although the general sales tax was enacted for the purpose of providing funds for education, a comparison of tax receipts and education expenditures indicates that about twenty per cent of sales tax revenue is going for non-educational purposes. The Educational Trust Fund would recover most or all of this twenty percent for the education of our children.

2. Full-time students in an accredited college, university or vocational school shall be exempt from the state income tax while they are full time students. Part time students in accredited institutions who are taking courses which improve their skills may deduct the expenses of such part time education from their taxable incomes when computing their state income tax.

C. Expenditure Reforms

- To provide a check on the majority party, the membership of the Advisory Budget Committee shall include at least two members of the minority party.
- Members of the press and public shall be allowed to be present at all meetings of the Joint Appropriations Sub-Committee.
- 3. At the end of each session, the Legislature shall appoint a Comptroller General who shall have access to all information on present and proposed State finances, and who shall report periodically to the Legislature on the status of State Finances and on the formulation of the State budget.

These three proposals would make a reality of the right of the taxpayers to know how their tax money is being spent. At the very least it would give the representatives of the people full access to this information.

- 4. Any surplus in State funds existing at the end of any fiscal year shall be used to retire a portion of the outstanding debt of the State. The only exception shall be funds in the Educational Trust fund.
- 5. A commission shall be established to make a study of the entire State tax structure and make suggestions for revamping the tax structure to provide a greater equity in the tax system and the maximum benefit to the taxpayer. The North Carolina tax system, like those of all other states, has been constructed bit by bit. Now is the time to take the lead among the states and study our entire tax structure as a unit and to make reforms which will give business, labor, and the consumer the maximum benefit from their tax dollars so they will have to bear only a minimum tax burden.

CIVIL RIGHTS

We are committed to the protection of rights and equal opportunities for all American citizens. Particularly, we object to the current practice of the present administration of paying only lip-service to equal job opportunities and non-discriminatory hiring. However, we deplore the arbitrary and capricious methods by which the present national administration has withheld or threatened to withhold federal funds in order to achieve forced racial balance in various programs receiving federal assistance. To ignore the free choices of all citizens and to insist upon forced racial balance is insulting to members of all races.

EFFICIENCY IN STATE ADMINISTRATION

In order to bring about better state government we advocate the following:

- The governor should have the power of veto as do all other state governors and as does the president.
- State employees should be protected by civil service in order to attract and hold capable persons.
- A comptroller general should be appointed by the legislature to oversee the budget and be responsible only to the legislature.

- 4. The legislature should delegate authority to the counties and municipalities of this state in matters which are purely of local concern, freeing the legislature to concern itself with pressing state matters.
- 5. A study commission should be set up similar to the "Hoover Commission" to study each individual agency of the state with the prime purpose to see if by combining or abolishing agencies, a more effective use could be made of personnel and money while better serving our citizens.

STATE EMPLOYEES

The Republican Party commends the excellent service of State Employees who have done their jobs despite the undue burden of political pressure exerted by the Democrat Party. It has been and is the desire of the Republican Party to enhance the position and security of State Employees. Republicans in 1961, 1963, and 1965 sessions of the General Assembly sponsored and supported legislation. A politically free Civil Service System would eliminate political servitude as it now exists and would allow State Employees to concentrate upon the productive work of their office.

GRAFT AND CORREPTION

After 65 years of control by the Democrat Party, and the record of corruption associated with it, it is time for an intensive investigation of State practices and policies.

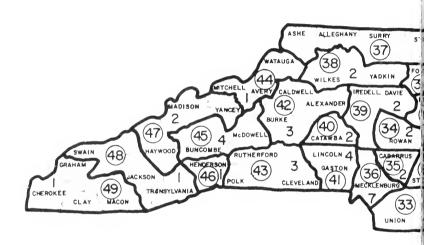

SECRECY IN GOVERNMENT

We believe that if North Carolinians are to remain free, the elected and appointed representatives of the people of North Carolina must be the major champions of the citizens rights.

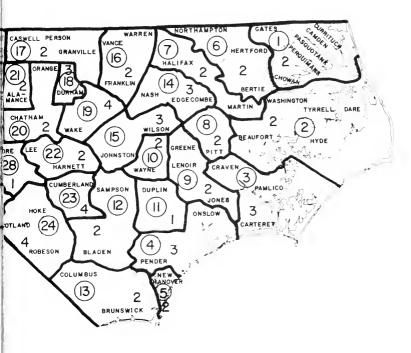

It is reasonable to assume that as North Carolina grows in population. State government enlarges in corresponding size, scope, and power.

Government, while seeking just and honorable goals, has become guilty of abuse of its powers. This has come about largely due to untended and unwatched affairs through secrecy in government.

State Represe

Districts - 1966

The Republican Party takes the position that no person, or group of persons, has the right to deny people the access to meetings and deliberations of any branch of their government.

We further believe that the citizens of this state have the absolute and unqualified right to know all the facts concerning the affairs of their government.

We oppose secret meetings of any Legislative Committee, and Commission Board or Administrative Department.

We conclude that secrecy in government, if allowed to prevail, becomes an unconscious development that ends in a voluntary surrender of a free people escaping from freedom to one autocratic master.

ROADS AND HIGHWAY

The Republican Party has consistently advocated a non-partisan policy which insists on the appointments of professionally oriented Highway Commissioners and the hiring of personnel based on qualifications rather than political loyalty.

We see the present program of automobile inspections as a totally inadequate approach towards stemming the shocking highway fatality figures in our State.

We would recommend more thorough studies of highway safety hazards, more consistent policies, a broader backing for our State Highway Patrol, and greater attention to the overall condition of our rural roads.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

There is no simple solution to the increasing slaughter upon our highways, but an effective state program dealing with every aspect of the problem is urgent.

Increased emphasis upon driver education, both in our schools and adult clinics, and upon public information forums is essential in making our citizenry safety-conscions.

Highway engineering and construction to eliminate locations of high accident frequency is a life-saver which cannot be delayed.

Above all, there should be vigorous and impartial law enforcement to instill into law violators a healthy respect for the traffic laws. Meddling with the State Highway Patrol for political reasons is inexcusable whether on a local or gubernatorial level.

The Republican Party condemns such political shenanigans in highway law enforcement and commits itself to a strict, impartial enforcement of our traffic laws.

JUDICIARY

The administration of justice in North Carolina has needed sensible modernization for many years. In the 1961 session of the General Assembly the unanimous support of Republican members resulted in the submission to the people of constitutional amendments to pave the way for court improvement. The people indicated by their overwhelming approval of these amendments that they wanted reform. The 1963 Session saw almost no activity towards implementing of the approved amendments. There were even brags by some of the Democrat members of the Legislature that there would be no implementation. In 1964 the Republican Party pledged an all out effort to bring about uniformity of the lower court systems of North Carolina and the general updating of our court procedures in order to improve and expedite the administration of justice and in 1965 appropriate legislation was enacted. The Democrats have demonstrated bad faith by opposing Republican sponsored legislation designed to allow open election of Judges in the District where they are to serve. The Republican Party will continue to advocate open and uninhibited election of Judges in this State by the people in the District where the Judge is to serve.

USE OF STATE FACILITIES BY THOSE ADVOCATING OVERTHROW OF OUR GOVERNMENT

The Republican Party of North Carolina is unalterably opposed to the use of State Buildings and facilities, as a forum, by persons or organizations known to advocate the overthrow of the Constitution or Government of the United States or the State of North Carolina by force or violence.

AGRICULTURE

The Republican Party has long held that minimal agricultural diversification, low per capita incomes and a declining rural population has accentuated the plight of North Carolina farming.

We recognize the inevitable changes which will be reshaping our farm economy through increased technology and mechanization. Therefore, we recommend:

- A. Greatly expanded technical assistance to enable farmers to tace rapidly changing methods of production.
- B. Basic research through experimental stations which will open up new potentials in crop diversification.
- C. Availability of reasonable long term capital with which to finance needed mechanization.

Further we feel great emphasis should be exerted through all related state agencies to develop more processing and distribution of local agricultural production. We see no valid reason for such high proportions of out-of-state agricultural products being imported to serve North Carolina markets.

CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

We believe that the greatest single indictment against our present Conservation and Development Department is the shockingly low per capita income for the people of our state.

Standing at 43rd among the 50 states, business economists have predicted it will take a half a century for North Carolina to catch up with the rest of the nation in per capita income at the present rate of growth.

We submit this to be the most acute economic problem of our state. Attracting industries which utilize comparatively unskilled and untrained labor contributes very little to our overall problem of low per capita income. We want to see more emphasis on developing industries which would afford higher incomes to our state's wage earners

To this end, we recommend an immediate and sharply expanded boost to the Research Triangle. In addition, we recommend any other regionally placed sub-centers which might be needed for specialized research, industrialization and development. Diversification of industry and more technical jobs created by these centers represent the two most logical approaches in attacking our state's chronic problem of unemployment and under-employment.

LABOR

The Republican Party commends the working men and women of North Carolina, who because of their efforts have raised their standard of living and improved their working conditions.

We strongly support the proposition that through free and honest elections the laboring people shall have opportunity to determine whether it is their desire to associate with a union or not. We do believe, however, that individuals, who after a properly conducted election have decided to be represented by a union who will be their bargaining agent, be given every opportunity to immediately begin bargaining with management.

While some progress has been made to establish a meaningful minimum wage in North Carolina, we believe that additional steps should be taken by the 1967 General Assembly. We are of the opinion that the Republican Party should introduce and support legislation that would guarantee a $1.25 minimum wage in our state by January 1, 1968.

We further believe that the present North Carolina unemployment and working-man's compensation laws are in need of study and revision. We believe that a thorough study will show a need for a substantial increase in the unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits when compared to other progressive states of this nation. We therefore propose that the 1967 General Assembly undertake such a study to properly determine equitable and honorable workman's and unemployment compensation benefits.

We believe that union leaders should set the example for proper and honest conduct in the organizing and governing of the labor movement and unions.

Union members should at all times have the opportunity to freely and openly express themselves and vote on all matters without fear of intimidation or reprisals against them or their families. We further believe that all matters pertaining to finances, dues, as well as all expenditures of union funds, should be freely and openly discussed and voted on by the entire membership; and that no monies be expended without the express will of the majority of the membership.

INTERNAL WATER RESOURCES

The Republican Party of North Carolina believes the need for conserving water is of such importance that water resources development should be put on a par with agricultural and industrial development. While water problems in the State have not yet reached serious proportions, there are some developing areas where total water demands soon may exceed available supplies; and adequate water quality shortly may pose serious problems for the entire state. Thus, while there is still time to do so, the Republican Party of North Carolina advocates that increased emphasis be placed on fully developing water resources of the State to meet foreseeable State demands for decades to come. We must immediately get down to the task of systematic planning for the best use of the State's water resources in an orderly and rational way.

HOME RULE

The Republican Party is alarmed by the increasing centralization of power in Raleigh and Washington. As an example, more than one-half of the legislation enacted by the North Carolina General Assembly is local legislation not applicable to the state as a whole.

CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM

The progress of North Carolina should not continue to be hampered by an antiquated, out-moded state constitution adopted in 1868 and cluttered with a hodge-podge of unrelated and confusing amendments.

The Republican Party advocates the call of a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of drafting and submitting to the people a modern up-to-date constitution.

PUBLIC HEALTH

The Republican Party knowing that sound physical and mental health is of basic importance to the life and happiness of the people realizes that this is primarily an individual responsibility, a local responsibility, a responsibility of charitable organizations, a responsibility of the cities and counties. The Republican Party recognizes that it is the responsibility of city, county, and state government to safeguard public health in areas beyond the power of the individual citizen and therefore it pledges itself to discharge this obligation and responsibility with maximum efficiency and minimum interference with the liberties of the people, and to spend the people's money with as much care as if it were all our own.

We pledge our best efforts in making North Carolina's health environment the safest in which to live, work, and play.

More specifically, we pledge ourselves to give immediate attention to solving the following important problems:

- 1. Pollution of water, soil, and air. Growing population and industrial expansion has aggravated existing wide spread pollution of streams and water supplies by human and industrial wastes. Overloaded and outmoded sewage disposal facilities, and inadequate water purification facilities in many locations have created in many areas situations of great and increasing danger to the health of the people. Immediate correction of these conditions, with intelligence and imagination is imperative. A farseeing, coordinated statewide plan, in cooperation with analogous projects in neighboring states, needs to be developed and carried out without delay to insure purity of surface and ground water and the water in our recreation areas.
- Programs for making more and better use of the skills of elderly citizens through cooperation with and assistance to our private enterprise economy sector.
- More careful long range planning to improve and maintain sanitary conditions in the fringe areas around cities and towns particularly the faster growing ones.
- 4. Health needs of our growing population demands more and better efforts to induce young people to prepare themselves for health service careers. This includes opposing the incentive-killing effect of federal government aid and control of health services. We advocate the establishment of a research division within the department of health for the purpose of determining if there be elements which may induce cancer in cigarette smoke and if such be found determining their exact nature and methods of eliminating these from processed cigarette tobacco.

PUBLIC WELFARE

We recognize that in every economy there are two groups of citizens, one which is unable to provide for itself and the other which is unwilling to provide for itself. It is the responsibility of our state and local government to care for all those so handicapped by unfortunate circumstances. Under present procedure there is too much opportunity for abuses in qualifying for welfare assistance. It is true that in all too many cases persons are receiving welfare assistance who refuse to work. It is imperative that more clearly defined limits and restrictions be placed upon recipients of welfare assistance to the end that cases of necessity are adequately cared for and cases of abuse are immediately checked and discontinued.

In many cases it is true that some of the more needy receive too little in the way of assistance. The Republican Party believes that stricter enforcement of requirements for participation in public welfare with more adequate assistance to those entitled to receive is essential.

The Republican Party advocates more exacting legislation requiring irresponsible parents to maintain their children and requiring adult children of sufficient income to maintain and support their needy parents. The enforcement of these laws will relieve taxpayers of this unwarranted burden.

COMMERCIAL FISHERIES—SALT WATER RESOURCES

As this division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development has functioned in the past, little constructive emphasis has been placed upon either of the fundamental functions of Conservation or development of North Carolina fishery resources. This lack of emphasis and resulting failure in its primary purposes is partly attributable to unnecessary emphasis on the activities of tax collection and law enforcement.

Under the control of the Democrat Party, the operation of the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, as presently conducted, has become a matter of collecting taxes (from the fishing industry) with which to pay for law enforcement officers. Many of the laws enforced are merely laws levying taxes (or licenses). Thus, this agency is, in effect a "political perpetual motion machine," accomplishing only its own continuation.

The Republican Party advocates the assumption by the Department of Revenue of tax collecting functions of the Commercial Fisheries Division which is presently handled by the Department of Conservation and the North Carolina Department of Conversation and Development.

Boats are the machinery used by fishermen for making their living. For the reason that the farmer's plow is not taxed, the fisherman's boat should not be taxed by special licenses.

We further deem it necessary that the law enforcement functions of the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development be assumed by a duly constituted law enforcement agency of the State, the North Carolina Waterway Patrol. The North Carolina Republican Party believes that, in this way, more effective and constructive practices can be established and that valuable contributions to the economics of the coastal areas of North Carolina can be made. We, furthermore, believe that these accomplishments will "inure" to the general benefit of all North Carolinians.

Once relieved of these two functions mentioned above, the Commercial and Sports Fisheries Division of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development should direct its efforts toward the proper objectives of conservation of basic brood stocks of the State's fishery resources and the development of the fishing and related industries.

We believe that the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries should be a separate department of government which will place added emphasis upon research, seafood processing and marketing in an attempt to raise the economy of coastal North Carolina and that this new division should also place added emphasis on the development of the sports fishing industry in North Carolina.

STATE PORTS

The North Carolina Republican Party believes that the North Carolina port facilities at Morehead City and Wilmington are vitally important to the State and its industries by affording the opportunity for world-wide commerce; and we advocate that major emphasis be placed upon our ports for their expansion in areas regarding promotion, advertising, and capital improvements; and we believe that a modern East-West highway is essential for the growth and usage of our ports.

We believe that these port facilities can and should continue to operate on a self-supporting basis in the tradition of a free and competitive economy.

COASTAL WATER WAYS

The North Carolina Republican Party is aware of the tremendous increase of pleasure boating in our coastal water, and is also aware that the lack of concern regarding the boating public is a detriment to tourist trade in our coastal areas. Therefore, we advocate the following policies:

- That there be an acceleration in the construction of boat ramps and relief stations in our coastal areas to be under the direction of the North Carolina Wildlife Reserve Commission.
- 2. That the State inaugurate a politically free Waterway Patrol to promote safe boating practices, and to provide assistance and protection for the boating public; and that there be established safety requirements and regulations for the operation of high powered boats.
- 3. That the North Carolina Highway Department in the mutual interest of highway traffic and water traffic adopt a policy of increasing the clearances under all fixed and draw-span bridges over coastal waterways.

INLAND LAKES AND RIVERS

The Republican Party recognizes the rights of all persons to enjoy inland lakes and rivers. We also recognize the dangers and problems involved when the same streams and lakes are used by different persons for different forms of recreation. We propose statewide regulation for the protection and control of boaters, swimmers, skiers, fishermen and divers while using our inland public waters.

RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP

Under the proper interpretation of the philosophy of government that our forefathers dreamed of and we seek to bring into realization. We, the Republican Party believe it to be fundamentally true that the will of the majority ought to prevail within the framework of the Constitution. In the proper exercise of that will, however, the proper regard must be used to safeguard the rights of minorities—whose members are entitled to equal and full citizenship of this state, and to the rights and freedom of choices of the individual citizen.

CONCLUSION

The future of our State is bright, for the people are realizing the advantages and necessity of a healthy two-party system of government. The shackles and heavy yoke of oppressive and lethargic one-party system are rapidly being discarded in North Carolina. Control of the government is being returned to the people, where it rightly should and will be with the emergency of a healthy, competitive, and active two-party system of government. Your vote for Republican candidates, dedicated to these our principles of good government, will speed the advent of government by the people, of the people, and for the people.

Rule 44. Reports of Committees. Every Senator presenting a report of a committee shall endorse the report with the name of the committee and, in case of a minority report, with the names of the members making the report. Every report of the committee upon a bill or resolution which is not considered at the time of making the report, or laid on the table by a vote of the Senate, shall stand upon the general orders with the bill or resolution; and the report of the committee shall show that a majority of the committee were present and voted.

Rule 45. Unfavorable report by committee. (a) All bills reported unfavorably by the committee to which they were referred, and having no minority report, shall lie upon the table, but may be taken from the table, and placed upon the calendar by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

(b) When a bill is reported by a committee with an unfavorable report, but accompanied by a minority report, the minority report shall be placed on the calendar and considered the following day, and the question before the Senate shall be "The adoption of the Minority Report" and if failing to be adopted by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. Before a minority report can be considered by the Senate, it must be signed by at least three (3) members of the committee who were present and who voted on the bill when the bill was considered in the committee.

Rule 46. Recall of bill from committee. When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the author of the bill may, after three day's public notice given in the Senate, on motion supported by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting, recall the bill from the committee to the floor of the Senate for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the Senators present may direct.

Rule 47. Calendar; order to be followed. The President and the Principal Clerk of the Senate shall see that all bills are acted upon by the Senate in the order in which they stand upon the calendar, unless otherwise ordered as hereinafter provided. The published calendar shall include all bills reported favorably from committees, or reported with a minority report attached, or placed on the calendar on motion. Provided, that the published Local Calendar may carry the number of each bill, the county or counties referred to, and an abbreviated statement of the title of the bill.

Rule 48. Considering bills out of regular order. Except as provided in Rule 49, any bill or other matter may be taken up out of order upon order of the President or upon motion sustained by a majority of the membership present and voting.

Rule 49. Third reading requirements. No bill on its third reading shall be acted upon out of the regular order in which it stands on the Calendar, and no bill shall be acted upon on its third reading the same day on which it passed its second reading unless so ordered by two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 50. Special orders. Any bill or other matter may be made a special order for a particular day or hour by a vote of the majority of the Senators voting, and if it shall not be completed on that day, it shall be returned to its place on the Calendar, unless it is made a special order for another day; and when a special order is under consideration it shall take precedence over any special order or subsequent order for the day, but such subsequent order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of.

Rule 51. Procedure when necessary number of Senators not present. If, on taking the question on a bill, it appears that a constitutional quorum is not present, or if the bill requires a vote of certain proportion of all the Senators to pass it, and it appears that such number is not present, the bill shall be again read and the question taken thereon; if the bill fails a second time for the want of the necessary number being present and voting, the bill shall not be finally lost, but shall be returned to the calendar in its proper order.

Rule 52. Effect of defeated bill. (a) After a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the qualified membership of the Senate: Provided, no local bill shall be held by the Chair as embodying the provisions, or being identical with any State wide measure which has been laid upon the table or failed to pass any of its readings.

(b) Bills postponed indefinitely. When a bill has been postponed indefinitely by the Senate, the bill shall lie upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 53. Taking bill from table. No bill which has been laid upon the table shall be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Rule 54. Amending titles of bills. When a bill is materially modified or the scope of its application extended or decreased, or if the county or counties to which it applies is changed, the title of the bill shall be changed by the Senator introducing the bill or by the committee having it in charge, or by the Principal Clerk, so as to indicate the full purport of the bill as amended and the county or counties to which it applies.

Rule 55. Conference committees. Whenever the Senate declines or refuses to concur in amendments put by the House to a bill originating in the Senate, or refuses to adopt a substitute adopted by the House for a bill originating in the Senate, a conference committee shall be appointed upon motion made, consisting of the number named in the motion; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the Senate and House. In considering matters in difference between the Senate and House committed to the conferees only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended. Except as herein set out, the rules of the United States House of Representatives shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees.

Rule 56. Engrossment of bills. A Senate bill when amended shall, unless otherwise ordered, be engrossed under the direction of the Principal Clerk and sent to the House with the next Senate message following engrossment: Provided, that when a bill is typewritten and has no interlineations therein, and has passed the Senate without amendment, it shall be sent to the House without engrossment, unless otherwise ordered.

Rule 57. Certification of passage of bills. The Principal Clerk shall certify the passage of bills by the Senate, with the date thereof, together with the fact whether passed by vote of three-fifths or two-thirds of the Senate, whenever such vote may be required by the Constitution or laws of the State.

Rule 58. Transmittal of bills to House. No bill shall be sent from the Senate on the day of its passage except on the last day of the session, unless otherwise ordered by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Legislative Officers and Employees

Rule 59. Doorkeepers, pages, and laborers. The President shall appoint doorkeepers and pages, and such laborers as may be necessary, and shall assign to them their duties during sessions, and when not in session they shall be under the direction of the Principal Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms, to perform such duties as are necessary and proper to the conduct of the Senate.

Rule 60. Daties of pages. The pages of the Senate shall be responsible to and under the direction of the President at all times when the Senate is in session, and shall not exceed twenty in number, which page so appointed shall be at least 13 years of age. They shall report to the Principal Clerk at other times to be assigned such duties as he may direct and shall be under his supervision.

Rule 61. Principal Clerk responsible for engrossing office. The office of the Engrossing Clerk is discontinued, and the duties of that officer as heretofore performed by the Engrossing Clerk shall devolve upon the Principal Clerk, who is charged with the responsibility therefor.

Rule 62. Committee Clerks. (a) The President of the Senate and the Principal Clerk shall appoint twenty-five clerks who shall be stenographers to serve as Committee Clerks. The President of the Senate and the Principal Clerk may appoint additional clerks upon the recommendation of the Rules Committee.

(b) All Committee Clerks, when not in attendance upon the direct duties connected with the committee to which they are assigned, shall report to the Principal Clerk of the Senate and, in order to expedite the work of the Senate, shall perform such clerical or stenographic work as may be assigned to them.

Rule 63. Principal Clerk to prepare Journal. The Principal Clerk shall cause the Journal of the Senate to be typewritten in duplicate, original and carbon, the original to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State as the record, and the other (carbon) copy to be delivered to the State Printer.

Rule 64. Principal Clerk to order supplies. All necessary supplies and stationery for the Senate, its various offices and committees of the Senate shall be purchased upon requisition of the Principal Clerk with the approval of the President of the Senate.

General Rules

Rule 65. President to sign papers. All acts, addresses and resolutions, and all warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the Senate shall be signed by the President.

Rule 66. Privileges of floor. No person except members of the Senate, members of the House of Representatives, Clerks, Pages, Interns and Employees of the General Assembly designated by the President, Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, the Governor and Council of State, former members of the General Assembly, and persons particularly invited and extended the privileges of the floor by the President shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate during its Session, provided: No registered lobbyist shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate or Senate Chamber while the Senate is in Session.

Rule 67. Admittance of Press. The President may assign such space or place on the floor of the Senate to representatives of news media desiring to report the proceedings of the Senate in accordance with the regulations filed with the Rules Committee by the President of the Senate. A copy of said regulations shall be filed with the Principal Clerk of the Senate and made available to any member of the Senate or news media upon request.

Rule 68. Absence without leave. No Senator or officer of the Senate shall depart the service of the Senate without leave, or receive pay as a Senator or officer for the time he is absent without leave.

Rule 69. Placing matter on Senator's desks. No papers, writings, pamphlets, or printed matter shall be placed on the desks of the Senators or distributed in the Senate Chamber without approval of the Principal Clerk.

Rule 70. Assignment of Offices. The Chairman of the Rules Committee, subject to the approval of the Committee, is authorized to make assignments from session to session of committee rooms and adjacent offices to designated committees and chairmen and shall do so promptly upon appointment in order to facilitate the organization of the Senate, and shall make assignments of individual offices, subject to the approval of the Committee. In making such assignments of individual offices, the said Chairman shall give preferential consideration to the respective members according to the total length of service which each member has rendered in the General Assembly.

Rule 71. Alterations, suspension or rescission of rules. No rule of the Senate shall be altered, suspended, or rescinded except on a two-thirds vote of the Senators present.

I. Order of Business

- Rule 1. Convening Hour. The House shall convene each legislative day at the hour fixed by the House on the preceding legislative day; in the event the House adjourns on the preceding legislative day without having fixed an hour for reconvening, the House shall reconvene on the next legislative day at twelve o'clock noon.
- Rule 2. Opening the Session. At the convening hour on each legislative day the Speaker shall call the members to order, and shall have the session opened with prayer.
- Rule 3. Quorum. (a) A quorum consists of a majority of the qualified members of the House.
- (b) On the point of no quorum's being raised, the doors shall be closed and the Clerk shall call the roll of the House, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. Fifteen members, including the Speaker, are authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, and may order that absentees for whom no sufficient excuses are made shall be taken into custody as they appear, or wherever they may be found by special messenger appointed for that purpose.

Rule 4. Approval of Journal. The Committee on the Journal shall examine daily the Journal of the House before the hour of convening to determine if the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded.

Immediately following the opening prayer and upon appearance of a quorum, the Speaker shall call for the report of the Committee on the Journal as to whether or not the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded; the Speaker shall then cause the Journal to be approved. Without objection, the Journal shall stand approved.

Rule 5. Order of Business of the Day. After the approval of the Journal of the preceding day, the House shall proceed to business in the following order:

- (1) The receiving of petitions, memorials and papers addressed to the General Assembly or to the House.
- (2) Reports of standing committees.
- (3) Reports of select committees.
- (4) Introduction of Resolutions.
- (5) Introduction of Bills.
- (6) The unfinished business of the preceding day.
- (7) Bills, resolutions, petitions, memorials, messages, and other papers on the Calendar in their exact numerical order. unless displaced by the order of the day; but messages, and motions to elect officers shall always be in order.
- (8) Reading of Notices and Announcements.

H. Conduct of Debate

Rule 6. Duties and Powers of the Speaker. (a) The Speaker shall have general direction of the Hall. He may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in case of sickness or by leave of the House.

(b) In the event the Speaker, by reason of physical or mental incapacity, is unable to perform the duties of the Chair, the Chairman of the Rules Committee shall be Speaker pro tempore, and shall perform all of the duties of the Speaker until such time as the Speaker may assume the Chair.

- Rule 7. Obtaining Floor. (a) When any member desires recognition for any purpose, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker. No member shall proceed until recognized by the Speaker.
- (b) When a member desires to interrupt a member having the floor, he shall first obtain recognition by the Speaker and permission of the member occupying the floor, and when so recognized and such permission is obtained, he may propound a question to the member occupying the floor; but he shall not propound a series of interrogatories or otherwise interrupt the member having the floor; and the Speaker shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.
- Rule 8. Questions of Personal Privilege. At any time, upon recognition by the Speaker, any member may rise to speak to a question of personal privilege, and upon objection to his proceeding, the Speaker shall determine if the question is one of privilege.
- Rule 9. Points of Order. (a) The Speaker shall decide questions of order and may speak to points of order in preference to other members arising from their seats for that purpose. Any member may appeal from the ruling of the Chair on questions of order; on such appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds (%3) vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.
- (b) When the Speaker calls a member to order, the member shall take his seat. A member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands. If the member appeals from the ruling of the Chair and the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not; and if the case, in the judgment of the House require it, he shall be liable to censure by the House.
- Rule 10. Limitations on Debate. No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech, unless allowed to do so by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present; nor shall he speak more than once upon an amendment or motion to commit or postpone, and then not longer than ten minutes. But the House may, by consent of a majority of the members present, suspend the operation of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

Rule 11. Reading of papers. When there is a call for the reading of a paper which has been read in the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present.

Rule 12. General Decorum. (a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

- (b) Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.
- (c) When the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking, entertain private discourse, stand up, or pass between the member and the Chair.
- (d) Smoking or the consumption of food or beverages shall not be permitted on the floor of the House while the House is in session.
- (e) Smoking or the consumption of food or beverages shall not be permitted in the galleries at any time.

III. Motions

Rule 13. Motions Generally. (a) Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

- (b) When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.
- (c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk, it shall be in the possession of the House; but it may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member shall be in possession of the House and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

Rule 14. Motions, Order of Precedence. When there are motions before the House, the order of precedence is as follows:

Previous question

To adjourn

To lay on the table

To postpone indefinitely

To postpone to a day certain

To commit

To amend an amendment

To amend

To substitute

To pass the bill

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

- Rule 15. Motion to Adjourn. (a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.
- (b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.
- Rule 16. Motion to Table. (a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House, and is always in order except when a motion to adjourn is before the House.
 - (b) A motion to table shall be decided without debate.
- (c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.
- (d) A motion to table an amendment sent up from the floor shall not be construed as a motion to table the principal bill or any other amendment which has been offered thereto, and if such motion is carried, only the amendment shall lie upon the table.
- (e) When a question has been tabled, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session except by two-thirds (%) vote.
- Rule 17. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely. A motion to postpone indefinitely is always in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House; however, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a two-thirds (23) vote.

Rule 18. Motion to Reconsider. (a) When a motion has been once made and decided in the affirmative or negative, it is in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding legislative day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate; Provided, that unless the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a call of the ayes and noes, any member may move to reconsider.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a two-thirds (2 ₅) vote.

IV. Previous Question

Rule 19. Previous Question. The previous question may be called only by the members submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, by the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or by the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

Rule 20. Form and Effect of Previous Question. (a) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration, including all pending amendments. If amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in inverse order.

(b) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn made prior to the determination of the previous question. Should the motion to adjourn be made prior to the determination of the previous question, the House shall vote first on the motion to adjourn and then, if the motion to adjourn fails, the members shall vote on the call for the previous question.

(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

V. Voting

- Rule 21. Stating Questions. (a) The Speaker shall rise to put a question.
- (b) The question shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye'," and after the affirmation voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'."
- (c) Any member may call for a question to be divided into two or more propositions to be voted on separately, and the Speaker shall determine whether the question admits of such a division.
- Rule 22. Determining Question. Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution of North Carolina, all questions shall be determined by the members present and voting.
- Rule 23. Voting by Division. Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Upon a call for a division, the Speaker shall cause the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative to be determined. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member out of his seat shall be counted.
- Rule 24. Roll Call Votc. (a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes. If the call is sustained by one-fifth (1/5) of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote, taken alphabetically.
- (b) Every member who is in the hall of the House when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll.
- Rule 25. Voting by Absentees. (a) No member shall vote on any question when he was not present when the question was put by the Speaker, except by the consent of the House.

- (h) If any member is necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result shall not be affected thereby.
- (c) When a member who is present is paired with an absent member, he shall, when his name is called on a roll call vote, announce the pair, which shall be recorded by the Principal Clerk.

Rule 26. Voting by Speaker. In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other instances he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie, but in no instance may he vote twice on the same question.

VI. Committees

Rule 27. Committees Generally. (a) All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially ordered by the House.

The Clerk shall stamp the copies with the number stamped upon the original bill
- Rule 36. Duplicating of Bills. The Principal Clerk shall cause such bills as are introduced to be duplicated in such numbers as may be specified by the Speaker. On the morning following the delivery of the copies, the Chief Clerk shall cause the Chief Page to have one copy put upon the desk of each member, one copy put in the office of each member, and shall retain the other copies in his office. A sufficient number of copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be delivered to the chairman or clerk of that committee by the Chief Page. If the bill is passed by the House, the Chief Clerk shall deliver the remaining copies to the Principal Clerk of the Senate for the use of the Senate.

- (d) Minority Report. When a bill is reported by a committee with a recommendation that it be not passed, but it is accompanied by a minority report signed by at least one-fourth (44) of the members of the committee who were present and voting when the bill was considered in committee, the question before the House shall be: "The adoption of the minority report." If the minority report is adopted by majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar for consideration. If the minority report fails of adoption by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

Rule 38. Removing Bill from Unfavorable Calendar. A bill may be removed from the unfavorable calendar upon motion carried by a two-thirds (%) vote. A motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar is not debatable; but the movant may, before making the motion, make a brief and concise statement, not more than five minutes in length, of the reasons for the motion.

Rule 39. Reports on Appropriation and Revenue Bills. All committees, other than the Committee on Appropriations, when favorably reporting any bill which carries an appropriation from the State, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for a further report before being acted upon by the House. All committees, other than the Committee on Finance, when favorably reporting any bill which in any way or manner raises revenue or levies a tax or authorizes the issue of bonds or notes, whether public, public-local, or private, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Finance for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

Rule 40. Recall of Bill from Committee. When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the introducer of the bill or some member designated by him may, after three days' public notice given in the House, on motion supported by a vote of two-thirds (%) of the members present and voting, recall the same from the committee to the floor of the House for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the members present may direct.

Rule 41. Calendars. The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public, local, and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the Calendar; but the Committee on Rules may at any time arrange the order of precedence in which bills may be considered.

- Rule 42. Readings of Bills. (a) Every bill shall receive three readings in the House prior to its passage. The introduction of the bill shall constitute its first reading, and the Speaker shall give notice at each subsequent reading whether it be the second or third reading.

- Rule 43. Effect of Defeated Bill. (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this Rule, after a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a two-thirds (%) yote.
- (b) No local bill shall be held by the Chair to embody the provisions of or to be identical with any statewide measure which has been laid upon the table, or failed to pass any of its readings.
- Rule 44. Amendments and Riders. No amendment or rider to a bill before the House shall be in order unless such rider or amendment is germane to the bill under consideration.

- (b) Only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended.
- (c) Except as herein set out, the rules of the House of Representatives of Congress shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees.

VIII. Legislative Officers and Employees

WAKE

Wake County was formed in 1771 from Johnston, Cumberland, and Orange. Was named in honor of Governor Tryon's wife, whose maiden name was Margaret Wake. Some historians say that the county was named for "Ester Wake," the popular sister of Tryon's wife, but there is no reason to suppose that any such person ever existed. She is surely a creature of the imagination.
